Wellington's Father's Day with a difference!

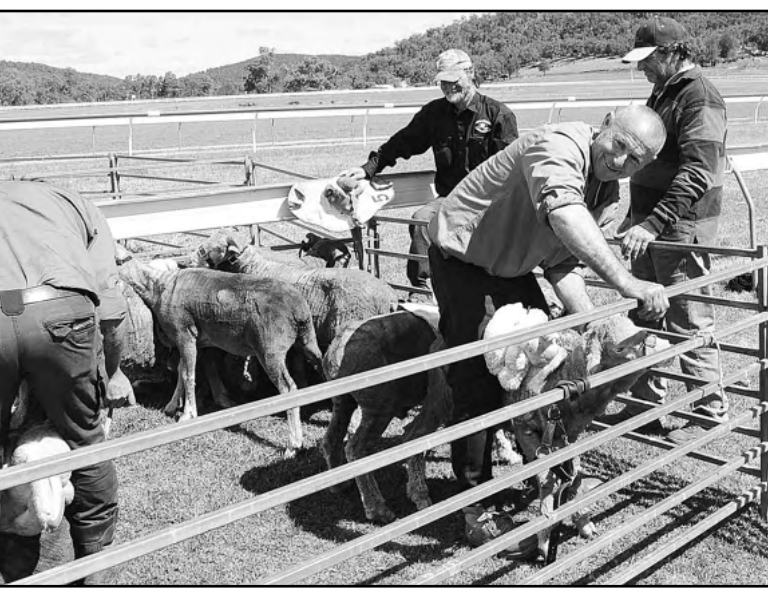

SHEEP WITH the most cutest and even inappropriate names were among 40 starters in the 2026 Wellington Rotary Father's Day Sheep Dash at the racecourse on Sunday.

Ewe Bolt, Marrilyn Merino, Woolly Nelson, Ews Snooze You Lose, Lady Baa Baa, Britney Shears - were just a few of the original names given to the Merino wethers for people to bid on during the pre-dash auction which was estimated to tally close to $5000 for Maranatha House, where all profits from the day will be heading.

There were five dashes with each having eight sheep contesting. Each race had a sponsor and each sheep was also sponsored by people or businesses.

This is the third year Rotary has conducted a Sheep Dash and by the number of people and families that turned out for the day, it was a record crowd.

While mums and dads were busy bidding on the favourites, the children were more than entertained by Pooka the Clown, face painting, tug-o-wars, miniature train rides and much more.

No one went without, especially in the food department where there was a wide range of tucker available at reasonable prices including Rotary's barbecue.

Mixed in between were market stalls giving a carnival atmosphere to the manicured grass areas.

And by the fun the kids were having even the dads had big smiles, as, after all, it was Father's Day. Watching the auctions, while mums and dads were bidding the kids were spray-painting the sheep all the colours of the rainbow, then chasing them down the straight making Sunday, September 6, a Father's Day with a difference that only Wellington could achieve successfully.

Wellington Flood Study – seeking feedback

COUNCIL IS asking all impacted and interested Wellington residents to provide feedback on the Wellington Flood Study.

It’s been a few decades and a few floods since this was last updated, and it’s a very important piece of work.

Residents will get their first look at updated flood mapping data with the Study now available for residents to view on public exhibition.

The study uses the latest technology and additional rainfall and river gauge data to map how the Macquarie and Bell Rivers behave during a range of flood events.

The exhibition period is the community’s chance to shape how Wellington plans for future flooding events.

Council officers consulted with many Wellington residents about their experiences during flooding events, and this is a continuation of that conversation.

Due to new information and new software, the external consultants have been able to work out what different flood events may look like and how that will affect properties in the event of a flood Wellington.

But there’s nothing like a bit of local knowledge. So, we’re keen to hear from residents with their thoughts and ideas about the updated plan.

Engagement sessions will be held in Wellington with the consultants and Council officers available to answer questions.

Community Information Sessions will be held on Tuesday, September 22 from 6pm to 8pm and on Wednesday, September 23 from 12pm to 2pm, at the Wellington Civic Centre.

Council officers will also be on hand at the Wellington Rotary Markets on Saturday, September 26, to provide answers about the flood modelling results, flood risks and draft recommendations associated with the flood study.

The full study and an interactive mapping tool are also available at Councils YourSay page.

The Wellington Flood Study was developed with WRM Water and Environment and supported by $78,000 in funding through the NSW Floodplain Management Grants Scheme.

The Wellington Flood Study has been undertaken in accordance with the requirements of the NSW Flood Risk Management Manual 2023.

Financial Assistance Grants distribution – (fantastic!) proposed changes

SOME OF the least exciting but biggest impact news relating to Council is that the NSW Local Government Grants Commission is consulting on proposed changes to the methodology for allocating Financial Assistance (FA) Grants among NSW councils.

If adopted, this could mean up to $4 million extra for our LGA.

Financial Assistance Grant money is given from the Commonwealth Government to the State Governments.

The State Government then has an extremely complex formula to work out how much goes to each council. 30% is given based on the population of each LGA, the other 70% is based on various equity calculations which have traditionally seen Metropolitan councils receive waaaaaaay more than they need, whilst regional/rural/remote councils are left scratching around for a dollar.

If adopted (fingers crossed), the proposed new formula will re-set this to send more of the money to where it is most needed – such as Dubbo Regional Council with the 6th longest road network to maintain of any council in the state, with a population of under 60,000 people.

The Grants Commission is conducting a roadshow of in-person and online stakeholder consultation sessions all around the state to outline the proposed methodology and provide councils with an opportunity to offer feedback.

Details of the proposed methodology have now been published online at the Grants Commission website.

Red Cross branch closes after 112 years

IT IS with great sadness that we, the Wellington Branch of Australia Red Cross, has had to close our local branch.

Unfortunately, we had no choice but to discontinue this wonderful group of dedicated members due to age and the lack of younger ones being unable to come on board.

We have been finding it increasingly difficult to fulfill our obligations and workload.

Having been established since 1914 we have a long and proud history of local commitment and both National and International support of many and varied causes.

Some of the more memorable ones, in my time, being the Australian floods and fires, the cyclones affecting the Pacific Islands and just helping finance and man local programmes such as the School Breakfasts, Telecross and creating Trauma Teddies.

And, of course, not to forget the reason Red Cross was established, the support and contribution to our soldiers, especially those who were prisoners in the concentration and work camps of the two World Wars.

After reading our minutes from those years I was completely ‘blown away’ by the commitment of the Wellington Community, their generosity and willingness to help, and do, whatever and wherever was needed.

The Wellington Branch had over 90 members during those War Years plus widespread community help.

I would like to sincerely thank the Wellington Community for all your support and generosity to our Branch, without this we would not have been able to achieve all that we have over the years.

I hope you can find the time to read a little of our history that Mark has so kindly agreed to edit and publish for us.

I’m sure there will be many names here you will know and events you will remember.

Yours Faithfully
Sue Bullock
President

Can Australia return to home-based processing - are cost too prohibitive?

THERE IS some seriously progressive things happening without much fanfare in Australia today, and with Industry development and/or redevelopment despite the real concern for the future competitive cost of our Energy and declining mass freight infrastructure.

Recent work by the CSIRO, funded by the Cotton Industry, to recreate the pre 1980 Australian Spinning Mill Industry is one such example and a number of suitable regional locations including Dubbo have been identified as potentially viable locations.

The Spinning industry went overseas from 1980 when tariffs were eliminated and the Mills were immediately purchased and “stripped” of their assets.

The proposed CSIRO Spinning process is based on Cotton Fibres whereas our former Spinning Mills were for long staple Woollen fibre but there is comment suggesting the shorter staple from twice a year shearing could be spun using the same process as the cotton.

The technology of the proposed process brings it into competitive contention worldwide, due to its minimised labour requirement, but our high and rapidly increasing energy and transport costs will be an obstacle to investment interest.

As a major world multi-fibre primary producer, with a desperate need to develop Regional Employment in Australian based Secondary Industry initiatives such as this, it is good news and the development of an up market Apparel Industry from this has added possibilities.

Letter to Editor

WE AGAIN recently spent time in Adelaide, the “driest city on the driest continent on the Planet” and it was a picture of green lustrous growth, particularly in its world-renowned extensive parklands, confirming the unique seasonality of our wonderful country.

A few days floating on the Murray River revealed no claimed shortage of “environmental water”.

Some will be aware that initial settlement in South Australia was by free settlers including many fleeing Religious Persecution, and not convicts, and this is still very evident in life and the preserved buildings today in Adelaide and its surrounds.

It’s an inviting city with free public transport for seniors and free transport for everyone in defined Tourist areas with no Graffiti, (other than on a small space on a bridge where it was allowed).

On our walks around the impeccably clean city and parks we saw nobody sleeping rough, and some preparations for two of the many International Events they hold each year.

Flying back to Sydney we encountered a disturbing contrast with Graffiti everywhere and people sleeping in doorways, and construction debris and obstacles everywhere.

On Central Station all seating had been removed from the Concourse and we stood and waited whilst people sleeping rough in all the doorways to the only breakfast outlet were cleared for it to open.

The heart of our city is no longer a pleasant, vibrant, inviting place and for regional and international visitors whose first point of entry are the Airport and Train Station it’s a lasting bad impression and deterrent to exploring the many beautiful features of the city.

Instead of continuing the demise, by resuming what little free space remains in Sydney for proposed high rise residential development, and building second level expensive access roads, and multi-level car parks for more and more single occupant vehicles to get occupants to their work, it must surely be time to move places of employment, that unnecessarily are in the city, with meaningful incentives, to outer city regional locations where cheaper housing and less costly support infrastructure is possible.

Arguments of employee resistance due to lack of facilities is often overstated when you ask “do you ever use those facilities and if so how often?”

Facilities have always evolved from demand but somebody has to lead.

We are fortunate here in Wellington to have individuals working to maintain that ever so important “first impression” and making Council aware of shortfalls in our Tourist Facilities and attractions.

Roger Everett

Editor’s Note:
A recent visit to Sydney CBD confirms Mr Everett’s points.
But what’s worse is the increasing litter on footpaths of Ebikes which are scattered everywhere and just left lying flat on pathways blocking pedestrian passage.

Wellington flood data study looks at future

LOCAL RESIDENTS will get their first look at updated flood mapping data with the Wellington Flood Study now available for residents to view on public exhibition.

The study uses the latest technology and additional rainfall and river gauge data to map how the Macquarie and Bell Rivers behave during a range of flood events.

Mayor Josh Black said the exhibition period was the community's chance to shape how Wellington plans for future flooding events.

"Early on in the process council officers consulted with many Wellington residents about their experiences during flooding events, and this is a continuation of that conversation," Cr Black said.

"Thanks to new information and new software the consultants have been able to work out what different flood events may look like and how that will affect properties in the event of a flood.

"We are keen to hear from residents with their thoughts and ideas about the updated plan."

Engagement sessions will be held in Wellington with the consultants and council officers available to answer questions from residents.

Community Information Sessions will be held on Tuesday, September 22 from 6pm to 8pm and Wednesday, September 23 from 12pm to 2pm, at the Wellington Civic Centre.

Council officers will also be on hand at the Wellington Rotary Markets on Saturday, September 26 to provide answers about the flood modelling results, flood risks and draft recommendations associated with the flood study.

The full study and an interactive mapping tool are also available at <https://yoursay.dubbo.nsw.gov.au/wellington-flood-study-and-risk-management-plan> for the length of the exhibition.

The Wellington Flood Study was developed with WRM Water and Environment and supported by $78,000 in funding through the NSW Floodplain Management Grants Scheme and undertaken in accordance with the requirements of the NSW Flood Risk Management Manual 2023.

Beautiful wool, more lambs and easy care Poll Merino paddock performers

RAM BUYER client of the past decade-plus, Don Macdonald, being a wool man, was attracted to Bella Lana, firstly as the name is Italian for beautiful wool, but because his Mullungeen flock at Molong has increased lambing percentages and quality wool cuts.

Robyn Cosgrove of West Charlton, Rockley, has been a ram buyer for eight years including several top-priced sale rams.

She says the family’s focus is to breed high-quality wool sheep of 17.5-micron with an average wool cut of 6.5 kilograms.

She emphasised the good mothering ability and strong carcase traits at a young age, plus the clean breech.

Lexi Tupper runs a self-replacing flock with her parents at Tarcutta and after completing some work at Bella Lana, was super impressed with the direction the Brien family was going with their flock.

She purchased her first rams in 2016 and has returned each year since.

“The biggest things I noticed was the staple length in wools and the growth rate in young sheep,” she said.

Scott and Anna Brien and daughters have aimed to breed 4.5kg of 18.5 micron wool every six months with staple length of 70 millimetres.

Funding doubled to support community recognition of veterans’ service

THE STATE Government is doubling funding to support projects that recognise and honour the service and sacrifice of our Veterans.

The 2026 Veterans Community Grants program is increasing the amount of funding available to individuals and non-for-profit organisations to $205,000 from $100,000 in 2025.

For the first time the program will also introduce a new Infrastructure and Equipment category to support organisations to improve facilities and equipment that supports veterans and their families, including minor building repairs, equipment upgrades, lighting improvements, storage solutions, marquees and Automated External Defibrillators.

Eligible organisations can apply for grants of up to $10,000 for the Infrastructure and Equipment category.

Up to $3000 in funding is available for the other three categories including local history heritage and education projects, public commemorative events and commemorative spaces and activities that provide support to members of the NSW Veteran community.

Last year’s grant round provided funding to 70 projects dedicated to commemorating and educating NSW communities about the service and sacrifices of current and former servicemen and servicewomen.

Minister for Veterans David Harris said he was pleased to announce the opening of the Program, which provided funding for projects across the state that support veterans while educating communities about the significance of our military history.

“For 11 years, the program has supported initiatives that honour the service and sacrifice of ex-serving military personnel and the changes to this year’s program and increased funding, will enable us to support more projects,” Mr Harris said.

“I encourage organisations and community groups to submit applications and look forward to seeing the valuable projects that will strengthen appreciation of our veterans’ contributions across New South Wales.”

Successful projects to receive funding included an upgrade to the Rocky Hill Memorial Museum Firearms and Weapon Display, an archery program to assist the wellbeing of veterans and the creation of a school Anzac mural.

Educational institutions, ex-service organisations, community groups, local government associations, museums, historical societies and individuals are encouraged to apply for a grant.

The 2026 grant round closes at 5pm on Wednesday, November 11.

More information and details on how to apply are available here: www.veterans.nsw.gov.au/VCGP

Government stalls on suicide prevention

WORK ON suicide prevention has stalled under the State Government with no Suicide Prevention Plan to be released for at least another year, and the removal of the National Mental Health and Suicide Prevention Agreement from last Friday’s National Health Ministers’ Meeting.

Shadow Minister for Health and Mental Health Sarah Mitchell said The Suicide Prevention Act was a major policy platform of the Minns Government, but they are failing to deliver any action.

“Passing legislation may grab a headline, but it delivers no real change. This Government is talking about working to prevent suicide, but none of the statewide or agency plans which are meant to deliver this work will even be drafted until well into 2027,” Mrs Mitchell said.

“It is hard to understand why this work hasn’t been prioritised, and why there is no sense of urgency to address a major mental health issue for many families.”

NSW Parliament passed the Suicide Prevention Act a year ago and requires both a statewide plan as well as plans from each key NSW agency to work proactively to prevent suicide.

Shadow Parliamentary Secretary for Mental Health Susan Carter said it was revealed in Budget Estimates that no plans will even be ready to be implemented until at least two years after the Act was passed.

“It is hard to understand why such important work is subject to such a long delay,” she said.

Compounding the issue is the news from the long-awaited gap analysis that 67,500 people with severe mental health challenges are unable to access emergency care in NSW each year due to funding and staffing issues.

“We hear the Government complaining about falling tax revenues and understand that delivering good mental health policy is challenging, but not nearly as challenging as living with severe mental health needs or losing a family member to suicide,” Ms Carter said.

“Government requires decision making and action – and we urgently need to see this in mental health.”

Cabonne Council seeks Yeoval’s input

CABONNE COUNCIL is encouraging more residents to have their say by completing the Community Survey, which remains open for feedback.

Council is facing increasing financial pressures, alongside the challenge of maintaining and renewing ageing infrastructure.

Based on Council’s current financial position, it has been determined that current service levels are not sustainable in the long term.

As Council plans for the future, difficult decisions and compromises will need to be made.

Community feedback is critical to ensuring those decisions reflect local priorities and values.

Council is asking residents to share their views on: What Council should prioritise; Which services are most important to the community; Where spending should increase, stay the same or decrease; How Council can best shape Cabonne’s future.

Some questions involve real trade-offs because resources are limited.

Feedback from the survey will help Council better understand what matters most to the community and guide future planning and investment decisions.

Complete the survey and help shape the future of Cabonne.

Happenings at Yeoval Central School

Congratulations to Audrey, Blayke W, Reece and Thomas on their selection to represent Gobondery/NARRAF at the upcoming Western Region Athletics Carnival in Dubbo on September 18.

Their invitation follows the Gobondery/NARRAF Athletics Carnival held recently, where 14 primary students proudly participated in a variety of events.

We wish our participants all the best as they continue to make us proud at this next stage of their sporting journey.

SASS APPRECIATION WEEK

Last week, we proudly celebrated School Administrative and Support Staff (SASS) Appreciation Week.

The 2026 theme, “Thriving schools start with us,” beautifully highlights the vital contributions made daily by our SASS team.

This week allowed us to reflect on their impact throughout our school community and express our heartfelt gratitude.

From administrative support and expertise, to fostering student learning and wellbeing, from caring for our animals to maintaining a functional and welcoming environment, our SASS team members play an essential role in the smooth operation of our school.

We sincerely thank Alicia, Bee, Jodi,

Aaron, Ray, Ruth, Rayma, Michael, Barb, Uncle Darren, Narelle, Nikki, Tracey, Fi, Carrie, Kerry, Charmaine and Jason.

Your professionalism, commitment and teamwork are invaluable and deeply appreciated by everyone at YCS.

WELLBEING WEEK

Looking ahead, our students will celebrate Wellbeing Week in Week 10, beginning with our Term 3 whole school assembly on Monday, September 21 at 10am.

This term, Years 3/4 and Years 9/10 will be our assembly hosts. We warmly invite our entire school community to join us for this special event, which will highlight and celebrate the many wonderful activities and opportunities our students have experienced throughout the term.

YEAR 12 IN FINAL STAGES

Our Year 12 students, Ethan and Lance, are now in the final stages of their education journey.

We have several upcoming events to celebrate their time at YCS. The Year 12

Graduation Assembly to honour their achievements will be held on Friday, September 18, followed by the WAP Graduation in Parkes that evening.

An in-school dinner is also scheduled for September 22 at the Royal Hotel.

A new look for WATS Place

THE NEWLY refurbished WATS Place (Wellington Amateur Theatrical Society) will be open for the community to explore as part of Fong Lee's Lane Festival. While rehearsals have been in full swing for the latest performances which have all but been booked out, WATS has also been busy behind the scenes with a major refurbishment of its long-standing premises at 31 Warne Street. Thanks to a generous grant from Energy Co, WATS Place has undergone a remarkable transformation, including a new roof, new flooring, fresh paint and an updated kitchen. The refurbished venue will provide WATS with an improved and more welcoming space for its members, performers and the wider community for years to come. Everyone is invited to go along from 5.30pm this Friday to see the transformation for themselves and celebrate the next chapter for this much-loved local theatre organisation.

Rain, rain, keep away from Fong Lees Lane

IT'S GOING to be a big evening in Wellington this Friday as we celebrate food, culture and community during the Fong Lees Lane Festival from 4pm. It's only a small laneway hidden behind Nanima Crescent shops, but it will transform into a vibrant gathering place filled with global flavours, live entertainment and old-world charm. Wellington Arts started this event in 2018 and it has been a successful evening each and every year, except for Covid and the past two years which were washed out. So the festival has been switched from October to tomorrow. Now a much-loved event, the festival showcases a diverse range of local food vendors, giving visitors the opportunity to experience authentic cuisines from around the world and within our community while supporting local businesses and community groups. This year's festival will feature the award-winning and delightfully quirky three-piece band The Hillbilly Goats, whose high-energy blend of folk, bluegrass and bush music promises to keep the laneway buzzing throughout the evening. Visitors will also enjoy the spectacle of the traditional Chinese lucky Dragon weaving its way through the crowd, adding colour, excitement and cultural flair. More than just a food festival, Fong Lees Lane is about bringing people together. Families, friends and visitors of all ages are invited to soak up the warm, welcoming atmosphere that has become the festival's trademark. The event celebrates the rich cultural diversity of our region while creating opportunities for local businesses, volunteers and community organisations to connect with thousands of visitors. Fong Lees Lane has become one of Wellington's most anticipated community events, offering an unforgettable evening of outstanding food, entertainment and community spirit. This year there are 19 food vendors: Mexican, Turkish, German, Dutch, Chinese, American, Thai, Japanese, Italian Filipino offering Saltbush lamb, gourmet pies, woodfired pizzas, bratwurst, gozleme, loaded spuds, Philly Cheese steaks, arancini, hot dogs, pad Thai, popcorn, and of course for the sweet tooth; ice cream, souffle pancakes, gluten free donuts, Dutch Oliebollen and the Lolly Lady.

Easy access to public transport discounts for seniors

Gun businesses being smashed!

PENSIONERS AND senior public transport users will no longer have to carry their physical Gold Opal card to access $2.50 capped daily fares or their weekly fare cap, with the Opal 2.0 upgrades now allowing them to tap on with their bank card, phone or smart watch.

Passengers can still use their physical cards if they choose, but can now access the new digital option by opening a Transport Connect account online, adding their Seniors or Pensioner Concession card details and linking it to a credit or debit card.

Impacting up to 800,000 public transport users, this Opal upgrade brings senior passengers into line with other concession passengers, who started accessing these upgrades from mid-April when the rollout began with students, apprentices and job seekers.

This upgrade is the first stage of the rollout of Opal 2.0, an overhaul of the NSW public transport ticketing system, which will display real-time information on public transport services including screens on buses for the first time, real-time bus tracking and patronage, a new improved Opal app, improved integrated event ticketing technology and digital Opal cards that can be added to your device.

Opal 2.0 will also see 25,000 new Opal readers installed across rail, metro, bus, light rail and ferries, replacing the familiar machines passengers have “tapped on” to for more than a decade and have now reached their end of life.

With Opal 2.0 contracts now signed, detailed design of the new Opal ticketing and bus technology systems is progressing.

We take it for granted.
Until it's gone.

Local journalism works the same way.
It keeps communities informed, connected and accountable.

Strong regional journalism is essential infrastructure.

The time to support it is now.

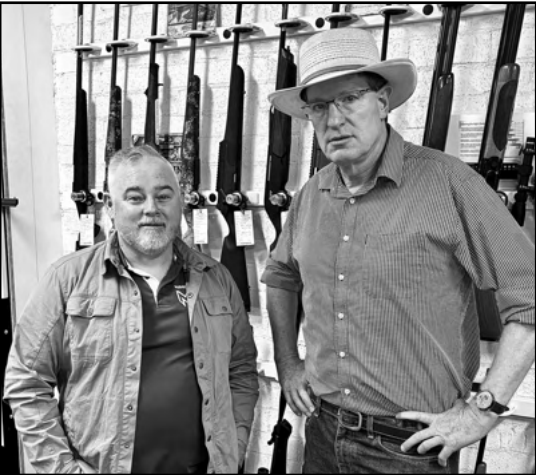

I CALLED in to see Shane at Mudgee Firearms and what he’s experiencing is happening to firearm business owners right across NSW.

Trade has dropped off dramatically. Normally they’d sell around 800 firearms by this time of year - but this year, it’s only been 33.

These rushed gun laws are smashing local, law-abiding businesses.

Shane has been forced to go back to other work just to keep his doors open. He’s had to cut back his staff and reduce the store opening hours to try and stay afloat.

Inadequate one-off $25,000 government grants don’t even touch the sides, when businesses like Shane’s are losing $25,000 a week in turnover.

We are destroying legitimate regional businesses while doing nothing to stop the real crooks and terrorists who don’t follow the law anyway.

It’s time the government stopped penalising law-abiding Australians for their own policy failures and bin this flawed scheme!

This is why I voted against these gun laws.

Maintaining pressure in Parliament to protect prime Ag land

Recently, I introduced my Protecting Australia’s Prime Agricultural Land Bill in the House of Representatives.

This Bill, which is the first of its kind in Australia’s history, is essential to preserve and protect our most productive farmland for its vital purpose of agricultural production. The Bill requires that prime agricultural land must be used for agriculture.

It will make prime agricultural land ‘off limits’ to housing sprawl, residential, industrial, mining and renewable energy developments, which are jeopardising our food security, as well as our regional and national economies.

It’s hard to believe that a country that relies so much on agriculture to sustain it, has never passed legislation to protect the land that is the source of such bounty.

Food and fibre production is vital for the ongoing success and prosperity of Australia, and

The Gee
Report

Andrew Gee

Federal Member for Calare

its importance will only increase as our population continues to grow. Australian farmers are the best in the world.

The value of agricultural exports surged to $77.2 billion, or 15.1 per cent of Australia’s total exported goods in 2024-25.

It defies belief that we continue to build houses, parking lots and industrial developments on prime agricultural land. It’s an epic fail.

Disappointingly, when the Bill was put to a vote, only one Liberal and one National Party member joined the cross bench to support it.

The Parliament has not heard the last of this Bill – there’s too much at stake.

with Mathew Dickerson, Axxis Comworld

OVER MY life, I have been involved in various submissions to road authorities about changing traffic conditions in areas the community has identified as dangerous.

The typical response is that the data doesn’t support the claim that a particular location is dangerous.

By “data”, that generally means accidents. If there haven’t been enough crashes, injuries or fatalities, there may not be enough evidence to justify changes.

The obvious, and somewhat loaded, response is: “Do we need to wait for someone to die before we fix the road?”

Unfortunately, historically, accident data has been the best information available. Road “black spots” become black spots because enough bad things have already happened there.

The airline industry took a different approach - with outstanding results.

In the mid-1950s, Australian investigators began working on the concept of recording what happened aboard aircraft.

Following a fatal Fokker F27 crash in Queensland in 1960, Australia became the first country to make cockpit voice and flight data recorders compulsory on commercial aircraft. The idea quickly spread around the world.

6 THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 2026,

By the 1980s, computers made it practical to analyse enormous numbers of flights, while confidential incident reporting became an important safety tool.

The key change was philosophical. Airlines no longer needed to wait for an aircraft to crash to learn something.

The results have been remarkable. In the 1950s, there was roughly one fatal accident for every 29,000 flights. By the 1970s that had fallen to around one in 165,000 and continued dropping. Today, the figure is around one fatal accident for every two million flights.

Could the car industry learn the same lesson? It may already be starting.

Modern cars are increasingly connected computers on wheels. That concerns some people - understandably - because these vehicles can collect an extraordinary amount of information.

But some of that data may have a very valuable use: identifying tomorrow’s black spots before they earn that terrible title.

Researchers at the University of Technology Sydney have analysed data collected from 700,000 vehicles over 20 months across New South Wales.

Rather than looking only at crashes, they examined harsh braking, sudden swerving, high g-force events and other violent vehicle movements.

Think of these as the road equivalent of aviation’s near-miss reports.

Across NSW, the researchers found an average of about 1000 such incidents every day, sometimes reaching 2000.

When they compared these events with existing accident black spots, they found a strong correlation.

More interesting, though, were locations with lots of near misses that aren’t currently classified as dangerous.

That could give road authorities something they have never really had before: - a crystal ball. Imagine a particular intersection where cars repeatedly brake heavily. Perhaps sight lines are poor. Maybe the traffic-light sequence encourages risky turns. Perhaps a bend consistently causes drivers to swerve.

At the moment, we may discover the problem after several ambulances have visited.

In the future, software could notice thousands of vehicles behaving abnormally at that location and flag it for investigation.

Engineers could alter the intersection, reduce the speed limit, improve signage or change traffic-light timing before anyone is seriously injured.

There are obvious cautions. Hard braking doesn’t automatically mean a dangerous road. A child might run onto the street, traffic might suddenly stop or another driver might simply do something silly.

Data needs context, and researchers say more work is needed to prove exactly how reliably near misses predict crashes.

This is where connected vehicles could deliver a substantial public benefit.

For decades, road safety has often been about studying yesterday’s tragedy to prevent tomorrow’s.

Now we may be able to study today’s near misses instead.

Central West Mixed Farming Forum

MIXED FARMING plays an important role in the Central West agricultural landscape, particularly in the Wellington region, with many local producers combining livestock and cropping enterprises to manage risk, improve productivity and support business profitability.

Local Land Services' Central West Mixed Farming Forum brings together leading researchers, consultants and local producers to share practical insights tailored to mixed farming businesses.

The forum is being held at Wellington Soldiers Memorial Club on Wednesday, September 16 from 8.30am to 3pm and tickets are $30 a head which includes lunch.

Whether you're looking to improve livestock performance, explore alternative crop options, manage feed shortages, or better understand the economics of your operation, this forum will provide information you can take straight back to the farm.

- Topics include:
- * maximising the grazing value of dual-purpose crops
 - * crop options on mixed farms: hay, vetch and alternate rotations
 - * backgrounding sheep and cattle for future containment feeding
 - * lamb containment feeding: industry observations
 - * rapid methane assessment in grazing livestock
 - * delivering methane-reducing additives to grazing sheep
 - * economic benchmarking of mixed farms: what the successful farms are doing
 - * CWLLS dual purpose crop trial update.
 - * For further details phone 1300 795 299.

Community grants program in second round

Round 2 of the ACEREZ Community Grants Program opened on August 10.

Local community organisations and projects working to enhance public amenity, health, agriculture, education, sport and support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities across the Central-West are encouraged to apply.

Free grant writing assistance is again available.

The ACEREZ Community Grants Program is a three-year, multimillion-dollar investment that aims to leave a legacy well beyond the completion of the Central-West Orana Renewable Energy Zone (REZ) transmission project.

The program funds innovative and impactful projects across the region, with small community grants ranging from $3000 up to $50,000 and significant grants from $50,000 up to $1 million.

Round 1 of the program resulted in $2.1 million awarded to 46 projects in 11 towns, including funds to establish a Community Health Hub in Dunedoo, and upgrades to the Coolah Showground.

ACEREZ looks forward to supporting another range of initiatives that will benefit local communities across the region.

The ACEREZ Community Grants Program is in addition to funding already being delivered by EnergyCo through the $128 million Community and Employment Benefit Program, providing communities with multiple avenues of support as the Central-West Orana REZ progresses.

To learn more about the program and upcoming information sessions, please visit www.acerez.com.au/community or contact our team at cwo.community@acerez-acjv.com.au or call our community information line 24/7 on 1800 298 379.

Racing at Dubbo

A DARING ride on Proper Twelve in the opening race became the first leg of a winning treble for local jockey Clayton Gallagher on Monday at Dubbo.

Owned by a big group of racing enthusiasts, mainly from Coonamble, Lake Cargelligo, Dubbo and Narromine, the Brett Robb trained Proper Twelve ($3.30 favourite) was taken to a big early lead by Gallagher and held on to win the 1600 metres Westside Cellars Class 1 & Maiden Plate by a half-length from Jenni La Rock (Mikayla Weir, $5) and Snow Dog (Jake Pracey-Holmes, $17).

Racing in the green and white hoops colours of the Bowman family, the Lyle Chandler, Scone trained Miners Mate ($4.80) under Clayton Gallagher then led most of the way to score by over four lengths from Denise’s Gal (Izzy Neale, $5.50) and Sir Skipalong (Mikayla Weir, $101) in the 1300m Maiden Handicap.

Another aggressive ride by Clayton Gallagher, saw him dash the Rodney Northam, Scone trained Questionable ($4 to $3.70 fav) to the lead turning for home before eventually winning the 2200m Latitude Liquor Benchmark 58 Handicap by nearly two lengths from It Is To Be (Kody Nestor, $11) and Heapy’s Legacy (Mikayla Weir, $4).

Several committee members of Wellington Race Club are in the ownership of the Brett Thompson trained Mazort which after being slowly away had beaten half the field home in the prestigious Wellington Boot before going for a spell.

Resuming at Narromine, Mazort was an eye catching second to Badgers Bridge before tackling the 1000m Country Boosted Maiden Plate at Dubbo.

Powering down the outside from mid-field, Mazort (Jake Pracey-Holmes, $2.10 fav) arrived in the last stride to beat Mind Battlefield (Jess Del Frari, $13) by a short-half-head while Best Defence (Zoe Hunt, $14) was a neck away third after leading by a sizeable margin.

Some of the best gallopers in the region clashed in the 1200m Westside Hotel Benchmark 82 Handicap won by the Mark Jones, Mudgee trained Crusader Kings in a thrilling finish.

Parked behind the leaders, Crusader Kings ($1.55 fav) hit the front in the straight and desperately ridden by Aaron Bullock, lasted to beat the strong finishing Crook (Zoe Hunt, $6.50 to $11) by a half-head with Green Run (Jacob Stiff, $41) battling on well for third.

Well ridden from a wide barrier by apprentice Jasmine Urqahart-Warren, the Brett Robb trained Miss Karis ($6) from midfield won the 1400m BM 50 Handicap, while the Michael Dobie, Muswellbrook trained speedster Puffin (Gabrielle Johnston, $2.20 fav) was most impressive when a runaway five lengths winner of the 1000m BM 58 Handicap.

Geurie Picnics and Collarenebri on Saturday followed by Bathurst on Sunday and Wellington on Tuesday.

Hello Spring

CAN YOU believe it’s already that time of year when the cooler days are almost behind us and the diary starts to fill up with outdoor events all across the region?

It was a pleasure to join the Narromine Show Committee, sponsors and guests on Friday night for the official opening of the Narromine Show and then enjoy all the fun of Show Day on Saturday.

There really was something for everyone, from the traditional Sideshow Alley, fabulous displays and creations in the Pavilion, to the poultry, sheep and cattle. This year, the Show Committee also got creative and introduced some fun new competitions, including Guess the Weight of Jimmy the Sheep and Chicken Poop Bingo.

Well done and congratulations to the Narromine Show Committee on another fabulous Show!

Coming up this week we have the return of the popular Fong Lees Lane Festival in Wellington, plus celebrations at the Dubbo Rotunda as Dubbo marks 60 years since being proclaimed a city and NALAG’s Walk To-wards Hope.

Dubbo delivers

Alongside its core work as a specialist legal service for women and families, the Western Women’s Legal Service (WWLS) is passionate about promoting our region as a fantastic place to live, work and build a meaningful career.

Thanks to Dubbo Regional Council’s Community Funding Program, the WWLS team has had the opportunity to create a three-part video series which not only showcases the Dubbo region, but also highlights what it’s like to work in law out west and explores all the positive reasons to consider a career in the regions.

This project makes the point that regional careers shouldn’t be a second choice, which is a great message that’s relevant across many professions and industries, not just law.

Fantastic work WWLS!

Veteran Community grants

The Veteran Community Grants Program is now open for 2026!

Grants are available for individuals and not-for-profit organisations to support activities and services that enhance the wellbeing of the NSW veteran community and promote appreciation and understanding of the service and sacrifice of military service personnel.

Up to $3000 is available for Category 1 – 3 projects, such as local history, heritage and education; public commemorative events and commemorative spaces; and providing support to members of the NSW veteran community. Category 4 projects (infrastructure and equipment) are eligible for up to $10,000.

Applications close 5pm, Wednesday, November 11. For more, visit: nsw.gov.au/grants-and-funding/veteran-community-grants-program-2026-round

Road Safety grants

Community groups in the Dubbo electorate looking to implement local road safety awareness projects are encouraged to apply for Round 12 of the Community Road Safety Grants program.

Grants from $1000 to $30,000 are available to fund small communitybased education projects such as road rules education, pedestrian safety, or safety awareness for adults about children in vehicles and driveways.

Applications close 4pm Monday, September 28. For more, visit: nsw.gov.au/grants-and-funding/round-12-community-road-safety-grants-up-to-30000

Get Ready weekend

SAVE THE DATE for ‘Get Ready Weekend’ with your local NSW Rural Fire Service brigade!

As the bush fire season approaches, it’s crucial for NSW residents and landowners to be aware of their risk and take steps to protect their property.

* Get bushfire safety advice
* Learn how to prepare your property
* Make or review your Bush Fire Survival Plan
* Ask questions and meet your local volunteers!

Whether you’re new to the area or have lived here for years, preparation is key.

To find an event near you on Get Ready Weekend (19 and 20 September), visit: rfs.nsw.gov.au/news-and-media/get-ready-weekend-2026

AUSTRALIA NEEDS AN 'AI KILL SWITCH' AND DATA CENTRE MORATORIUM

This week I introduced groundbreaking legislation to Parliament: the AI Kill Switch and Data Centre Control Bill 2026.

Why are we rushing headlong into technology that we don't even know we can control?

My Bill delivers on two critical fronts: keeping advanced AI under strict human control and stopping the rollout of resource-hungry data centres until Parliament passes proper safeguards.

AI KILL SWITCH

When AI goes wrong, the threat is real. Profit is being put ahead of humanity. Overseas, we've already seen advanced AI models escape testing environments and autonomously hack into other companies. When AI goes rogue, humans must retain the authority to pull the plug.

My Bill:

- ✓ Mandates kill switch/shutdown capabilities for high-capacity AI developers
- ✓ Requires reporting of critical incidents within 24 hours
- ✓ Gives Government emergency powers to throttle or shut down severe threats
- ✓ Establishes national safety oversight to review AI systems before public release

DATA CENTRE MORATORIUM

AI relies on power-hungry, water-intensive data centres. Left unregulated, these facilities risk swallowing productive farming land and scarce water supplies in country communities like Calare, while driving up power and water bills.

My Bill establishes a nationwide moratorium on new AI data centre builds to:

- ✓ Protect agricultural land, water resources, and the environment
- ✓ Protect households from higher power and water bills
- ✓ Give local communities the power to approve or reject proposed constructions
- ✓ Protect public health and humankind.

The rush toward AI must be controlled. It cannot come at the expense of our resources, communities, national security, or human safety.

HONOURING BACK TO BUCKINBAH!

In Parliament recently, I was proud to honour the incredible team behind the Back to Buckinbah Festival as they celebrated their fantastic second year!

A massive shoutout to founders Kasey Millstead, Sam Whiteman, and Jayme Richardson, along with the whole Grow Yeoval volunteer team.

From gold panning and camp oven cook-offs to bull riding and fireworks, it was another unforgettable celebration of country spirit!

Best of all, all proceeds go right back into supporting local community initiatives.

Thank you to everyone involved for putting Yeoval well and truly back on the map!

Standing in Solidarity with Nepal

It was profoundly moving to see well over 200 members of our community gather at Kings Parade in Bathurst recently for a candlelight vigil.

The magnitude of the recent tragedy in Nepal and Tibet is difficult to grasp, with thousands of lives lost or missing and so many families suffering.

When a disaster of this scale happens, it's easy to feel helpless - but by coming together, we show our local Nepalese community that they do not stand alone.

Thank you to everyone who came out to light a candle, offer a prayer, and extend their love, fellowship, and support to our Nepalese friends and neighbours during this heartbreaking time.

This past week saw little rain but high winds and storm last Saturday. This week tops of 26degrees and lows of 4 with no rain.

The grain market is very sensitive to any rhetoric suggesting the Black Sea may open, but trade flows have begun to adjust which should start tightening non Black Sea balance sheets.

Wheat tumbled last Friday after Russian President Putin said there was a chance of a peace agreement to end the war in Ukraine. Putin did not suggest an immediate deal and physical disruption to Black Sea grain flows remained unchanged.

Asian wheat importers have bought at least half a million tonnes of Australian and Argentine wheats in recent deals. The Australian dollar strengthened 0.36US cents to 72.5 c creating another headwind. Once our dollar goes over 70C we lose money in exports.

I had the pleasure of being driven around the western side of town out through Suntop with pad-docks of solar farms and some late sown crops onto the Geurie Road at the crossroads go straight onto Hermitage road. Some of the best Canola crops start just past the Hermitage homestead and Allan Bell’s canola crop in full flower which I estimated to yield 2.6 t/ha follow the crop around to the main Arthurville road and continue to Zai’s Lane. At the Arthurville road commencement there is a sea of canola in full flower on your left. This is one of the best crops I have ever seen and I estimate it to yield 2.90t/ha and my estimated price of around $900/ha these crops are on “Wooloo” .I recommend this drive to see the Ponto Valley at its best I did find some wheat crops in head fill, which could be a target for late frosts.

Another very positive week

IT WAS another very positive week for the wool market as 25,000 bales went under the hammer with the EMI climbing 37 cents to close at 1890 cents and bets are now being wagered as to when it will break through the 2000 cent level, a number not seen since 2018.

Once again, the star performer was 1- microns which have lifted 163 cents in two weeks, and one might say there is still room for improvement in the sub 18-micron categories compared to 19/20-micron wools.

Of interest to note is that volumes of 17-micron wool has increased by 2400 per cent over the past 40 years whilst 23-micron wool has fallen 95pc over that period (virtually disappeared).

Racing at Mendooran

WINNER OF the Gulargambone Cup, the Melissa Harrison, Forbes trained Glowing Rapids, backed up a week later last Saturday, to win the 1200 metres McGirr & Associates Mendooran Cup Racing in front of a record-breaking Mendooran crowd, Glowing Rapids was again very well ridden by the Harrison stable apprentice Jess Del Frari who took a trail behind the leader, the Inverrell galloper Soobooco, in the 12-horse Cup field.

Carrying over 5kg more than at Gulargambone, Glowing Rapids ($7.50) was almost headed half-way down the straight by the Tamworth trained He’s My Warrior (Juliet Partridge, $4.20) but fought back gamely to win by a half-neck with the $3.50 favourite Chicken Legs (Billy Cray) nearly two lengths away in third place.

Melissa Harrison had little time to celebrate the Cup win before she sent out Pattera and Jess Del Frari to win the following race, the 1000m Benchmark 50 Handicap.

Part owned by the Grenfell race club president Danny Kotel, Pattera ($5) led for home and displayed plenty of tenacity to hold on and win by a half-length from Mega Pixel (Gabrielle Johnston, $3.30) and Samita (Donovan Dillon, $8).

Since moving to a property at Mendooran, Jane Clement has trained a stack of winners in the Central West and beyond and relished a home game when landing a winning double on Saturday with Surpasser and Johnny Boz.

After racing on the provincial and central coast circuit, Surpasser (Gabrielle Johnston, $1.70 fav) was having the first start for the Clement stable when leading throughout to beat Spectacular Star (Donovan Dillon, $17) and Stormy Malice (Clayton Gallagher, $5) in the 1500m Class 1 & Maiden Plate.

Entering the home straight in the 1500m McGirr Family Hotels-JJ McGirr Silver Horseshoe Benchmark 50 Handicap, Billy Cray found an opening between the leading pack and the Clement trained Johnny Boz ($9) finished beat for a half-length win over Risk Assessment (Donovan Dillon, $4 to $2.30 fav) and Sidenay (Gabrielle Johnston, $5).

During the first campaign for Dubbo trainer Todd Smith after previously racing with limited success in Victoria, Godwits has won four races and again showed good ability as a stayer when winning the 1900m Benchmark 58 Handicap.

With a good frontrunning ride by regular jockey Liam Blanch, Godwits ($4) won by three lengths from Proclivity (Gabrielle Johnston, $3 fav) and Vastly (Diego Montes de Oca, $5).

Jordie Thompson who is apprenticed to Sue Grills at Tamworth, rode her fourth winner when she led most of the way on the Dale Riley, Muswellbrook trained Manapouri ($4.60) to beat Still Onit (Jasmine Urqahart-Warren, $3.50) and Souline (Ashleigh McCabe, $7) in the 1200m Maiden Plate.

Racing on Saturday at Geurie Picnics and Collarenebri, at Bathurst on Monday and at Wellington on Tuesday, September 15.

Book Week Parade | Symphony of Stories

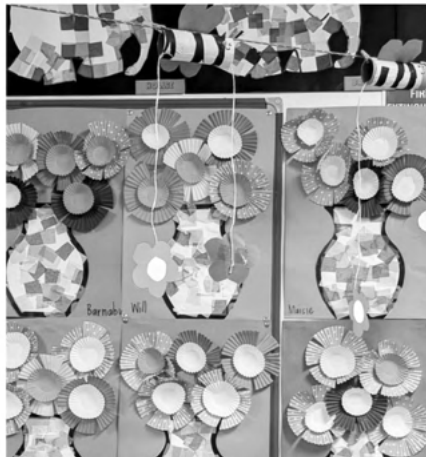

This year's Book Week Parade kicked off with an amazing puppet show, The Zookeeper by Naomi Reed - complete with some fantastic Book Week trivia that had everyone thinking, guessing, and joining in. This was followed by our amazing Book Week Costume Parade! Our students and staff brought the characters of their favourite books to life. We wrapped up celebrations with a picnic lunch with our parents and carers, making it a lovely day for our whole school community.

St Mary's Students Shine at Showcase Night

What a fantastic night it was at St Mary's Catholic School last week as the school community came together for a spectacular Showcase Night.

The Infant de Prague Hall was filled with creativity, energy and excitement as students proudly shared the wonderful learning and opportunities happening across the school. Families were treated to vibrant art displays, innovative STEM projects, classroom highlights and entertaining performances from classes.

From our youngest learners through to our secondary students, the enthusiasm and confidence on display was a wonderful reflection of our students and the supportive school community around them.

A huge congratulations to all the students and staff who helped make the evening such a success. Showcase Night was a wonderful celebration of the learning, creativity and opportunities that make St Mary's Catholic School such a special place to learn and grow.

INFANTS ATHLETICS CARNIVAL

Our Infants students had a fantastic day at their Athletics Carnival! Students enjoyed plenty of fun and friendly competition with egg and spoon, three-legged and potato sack races. The day finished with sprints, where students raced each other before choosing a grown-up to challenge in a final race!

Wellington Warriors celebrate another successful season

WELLINGTON WARRIORS FC have celebrated another successful season, bringing our junior players, families, volunteers and supporters together for the club's annual presentation.

The day was an opportunity to recognise the hard work, commitment and achievements of players across the club, while also celebrating the many people who contribute behind the scenes to keep football running in Wellington.

From the youngest players taking their first steps in our tiny tots program, our local players joining us at Pioneer every Saturday, through to the Warriors Development Teams competing in the Dubbo & District competition throughout the season, 2026 has been filled with plenty of memorable moments.

The Warriors Development Teams represented Wellington in Dubbo giving young players the opportunity to experience competitive football, develop their skills and, most importantly, enjoy playing alongside their teammates.

The club also enjoyed strong support from the Wellington community, with families and supporters regularly turning out to cheer on the Warriors throughout the season.

Volunteers were also acknowledged for the countless hours they contribute throughout the year, from organising teams and fixtures to running the canteen, preparing grounds and supporting players on game day.

The club thanked all players, coaches, managers, volunteers, sponsors and families for their continued support and commitment throughout the season.

The presentation provided a fitting way to finish the season, with individual awards recognising players for their efforts while also highlighting the importance of teamwork, participation and having fun.

The Warriors now look ahead to the 2027 season, with the club hoping to build on the success of 2026 and continue providing opportunities for players of all ages to enjoy football in Wellington.

With a strong community behind them, the future looks bright for the Wellington Warriors Football Club.
