Mount Arthur’s hidden gems marred by inconsiderates

Mount Arthur Reserve stands sentinel over the Wellington township and provides locals and visitors a breathtaking walking and site-seeing experience among its unaltered woodland and green glens. However, Reserve volunteers are disillusioned by the contempt of inconsiderate people who illegally dump their unwanted rubbish.

WELLINGTON IS so fortunate to have the 2000-hectare Mt Arthur Crown Reserve sitting as the backdrop to our town.

This wonderful island of virtually unaltered woodland hides such a range of hidden gems that are a pleasure to explore. Breathtaking green glens sparkle and tinkle after rain.

A range of native flora provide displays of the endangered Purple Pea, wattles, orchids, everlastings, chocolate lilies and climbing Pandora. Echidnas, wallabies and occasionally wombats and green tree snakes can also be seen.

However, this is all mingled with invading species such as tiger and prickly pear, plus goats and more recently deer.

In all, a variety of environments worth exploring and proclaiming to the world.

A small but growing group of volunteers patrol the 20-plus kilometres of walking tracks, keeping them clear of fallen timber and doing basic maintenance, as well as emptying garbage bins and attending to litter.

Sometimes, however, these tasks are added to by some who treat the Reserve as a free dumping ground, firewood resource or an easy target for vandalism.

These negative activities are a regular occurrence that are an additional unwelcome cost, unsightly and a deterrent to visitors.

The recently appointed Mt Arthur Board, which manage the Reserve on behalf of Crown Lands, has the task of maintaining and promoting this resource, that sits close to our town’s heart.

All the current Board members live locally and three of the five are also volunteers.

Most recently the Board has commissioned a trails audit to determine if they meet acceptable standards for public trails in Australia and how best to manage and improve them. A preliminary verbal report from Destination Trails was very positive about what is at our doorstep and a full written report will follow.

Unfortunately, no regular money flows to the Board for this work only that which can be procured through grants.

As a result, there has been no regular Mt Arthur Ranger for some years and no prospect in the foreseeable future.

There is a dream that Mt Arthur Reserve will become a well-preserved pre-colonial remnant that will attract a wide variety of excited visitors.

Visitors that will come to see a unique landscape, natural flora and fauna with a link to a cultural past of both indigenous and European heritage.

Council’s extension of the footpath from Pioneer Park to the foot of Mt Arthur will be a welcome step toward strengthening the link between town and reserve.

With the right guidance and community cooperation what is now a rough diamond could become a gem in our region.

To learn more about what’s happening on the Mt Arthur Reserve there is a web page at www.moun-tarthurreserve.com.au and a Facebook page - Mount Arthur Reserve.

Volunteers also often post some of their activities on the You Know You’re from Wellington Facebook site.

Wrap on Council's Wellington Ordinary meeting

IT WAS a full agenda and a full public gallery at the May Council Meeting held in Wellington last week.

There were numerous Motions and Questions brought by Councillors on the Summer Water Billing.

Council called for an investigation to be undertaken on 25 water meters with large differences in corresponding bills, greater than 50 per cent increase, for the summer billing period with the results to be presented to Council at the July 2026 Ordinary Council meeting.

Still on water bills, Council will produce and distribute information material to residents to explain the main points of the higher water bills experienced by residents during the most recent summer billing period and to inform residents that Council is investigating a sample of water meters to identify any potential issues.

E-Scooters and E-Bikes

Council acknowledged the community's concerns regarding the use of e-bikes, e-scooters and similar micromobility devices in high pedestrian activity areas and noted only a small number of 'no bicycle' signs remain in the Dubbo CBD and there was no equivalent signage in the Wellington CBD.

Councillors requested a report on practical options available to improve pedestrian safety and manage the use of e-bikes, bicycles, e-scooters and similar devices in high pedestrian areas.

Councillors requested the report address six statements and look at the Dubbo CBD and Wellington Town Centre.

New General Manager

Mr Andrew Wilsmore has started as the new General Manager of Dubbo Regional Council and commenced duties last Monday and was straight into a Council Meeting in Wellington on Tuesday.

He has hit the ground running and has been extremely busy visiting the various depots and assets around the entire LGA.

A big thankyou to Mr Luke Ryan who undertook the role of Interim General Manager for seven months with aplomb until Mr Wilsmore was able to begin.

Luke returns to his substantive position as Director of Infrastructure, where I know his Team have been eagerly awaiting his return.

New Council Code of Meeting Practice disallowed

At 9.30pm on Tuesday, May 26, the NSW Legislative Council voted to Disallow the Council Code of Meeting Practice that was brought in by the Minister for Local Government and started on January 1 this year.

There had been a lot of debate all around the State on the new Code, with many of the complaints focussing on the changes to Councillors joining a meeting via Audio Visual Link, and the Public Forum provisions.

All 128 Councils in NSW will now need to rescind the new-but-recently-disallowed-Code, and readopt the previous Code from 2021

Letter to the editor

Editor,

THE DEMISE of Service Clubs with their community benefits, social interaction, personal development and the feeling of empowering "community ownership" has been particularly detrimental to Regional Communities such as ours.

The organisations in our communities today have mostly aged members, with a few exceptions, and as a former member of Jaycees with its strict upper age limit this at the time seemed beneficial to attracting new young members however it wasn't lasting.

I will never forget when I was State President of Tasmanian Jaycee's going to the Annual Conference in Perth and addressing the 1200 delegates present of the decision by the majority of Tasmanian chapters not to allow female membership. (I ended up very lonely at that conference and female membership was adopted)

Interestingly in Tassie the most common reason at that time came from the wives of members who "didn't feel comfortable with not being able to be involved due to having young families and the concern of unrestricted women regularly mixing with their husbands".

When I was invited to join Rotary, each club was restricted to just one businessman from each local business and as the world has moved on membership is now advertised to male and female applicants to add to the ageing membership to continue involvement.

The stalwarts of the surviving clubs, particularly Lions, and Rotary in our community are to be commended for their enduring efforts as are all those contributing to maintain the essence of beneficial existence in Rural Australia.

Illegal e-bike riders on notice

ILLEGAL e-bikes will be seized and crushed under the tough approach to taking high-powered and doctored bikes off the state's roads and footpaths.

NSW Police and Transport Authorised Officers will be empowered to seize illegal e-bikes and Transport for NSW will be able to pulverise them.

The Road Transport Amendment (Non-registered Motor Vehicles) Bill 2026 facilitating the new approach passed NSW Parliament last Thursday.

Minister for Transport John Graham said this law was part of the NSW Government drawing a clear line on e-bikes.

"We want young people outdoors and active, but we will not tolerate illegal, high-powered e-motorbikes putting lives at risk and being part of anti-social behaviour," he said.

As well as introducing the crushing machinery, the Government has invested in a number of 'dyno units' that measure whether the speed of an e-bike is beyond the legal maximum.

The portable test units can determine whether the e-bike's power assistance cuts out completely at 25km/h as per the law in NSW.

If an e-bike is found to be non-compliant at the roadside, Police will be empowered to seize it and ultimately crush the bike to ensure it does not return to the road.

Police in Western Australia have confiscated and crushed dozens of bikes since adopting tougher laws there.

The first dyno unit from Europe has been received by Transport for NSW, with more on order.

The seize and crush laws build on a series of key government initiatives to crackdown on illegal e-bikes and dangerous behaviour:

- * Sustaining Strike Force Puma to target dangerous e-bike and e-motorbike rideouts.
- * Reducing the 500-watt e-bike power limit to 250-watts – bringing NSW into line with other states.
- * Bringing NSW into line with the rest of Australia by bringing in the EN15194 standard after a transition period.

Take up the winter reading challenge

WINTER IS just the time to snuggle-up in the warmth and immerse yourself in an exciting book.

So, are you ready to challenge yourself this winter and see how many books you can read?

Join the Winter Reading Challenge at Wellington Library through the Macquarie Regional Library and make the most of the cooler months by building your reading habit from the comfort of your home.

The Winter Reading Challenge is for all ages and runs from Monday, June 1 to Friday, July 31 via the Beanstack app.

Mayor Josh Black said the Winter Reading Challenge was a great reason to stay indoors in the warmth and enjoy some good books from your local library.

“Designed to develop long-lasting reading habits the Winter Reading Challenge is not just about reading; audio-books count as well,” he said.

“Each year the number of participants continues to grow and this year is sure to be the same.”

And a bonus - the Challenge is free to join.

To register, participants need to be a member of Wellington and Macquarie Regional Library, then download the Beanstack Tracker app and register for the Winter Reading Challenge.

Participants earn virtual badges for every 20 minutes of reading they log and go in the draw to win weekly prizes.

Library staff check through the wide range of books for winter reading.

Each badge earns one entry into the prize draw. All badges will roll over into the next draw, so keep logging your reading to increase your chances of winning.

The Library’s acting manager Kylie Clarkson said reading was a wonderful way to unwind and relax.

“While reading is its own reward, there are also great prizes to be won in the Challenge.

“By being a library member you can borrow books and audiobooks free of charge, and the library’s friendly staff are always on hand to help you discover your next great read,” Ms Clarkson said.

“From the ever-popular crime fiction to fascinating non-fiction, there is something for every reader to enjoy at your local library.”

Wellington Library offers an extensive collection of books, along with access to a wide selection of eBooks and audio-books through popular apps such as Libby, uLibrary, BorrowBox and Indy-reads.

Not a member of the Library? Join for free at Wellington Library..

Local family takes over Quest Dubbo

SPICERS CREEK Maurice family this week officially stepped into ownership and management of Quest Dubbo, bringing decades of experience across agribusiness, banking, farming, interior design, marketing and strategic leadership.

The Maurice family has farmed in the Spicers Creek district for almost 100 years and maintains strong ties to both Wellington and Dubbo communities.

Jim Maurice will lead the property management side of the business, drawing on more than 20 years’ experience in agribusiness, commercial banking and real estate.

Lindy Maurice previously dedicated more than 20 years to the Australian thoroughbred racing and breeding industry and is best known as the founder of Thoroughbred Industry Careers, a national organisation focused on attracting and training young people for careers in racing.

In 2024, she received the inaugural Racing Women of the Year award in recognition of her contribution to the industry.

The broader Maurice family, including Jim’s siblings Kate, Angus and Hugh, will also support the operation behind the scenes, with artist and interior designer Kate Maurice and her husband Alex Scheibner who is a well-known sculpture and blacksmith.

Kate is a multidisciplinary

designer whose global travels and creative background in fashion, visual arts and sustainable development have shaped her distinctive approach to interiors and design.

Now based in Rylstone with Alex, she co-creates bespoke interior, exterior and exhibition pieces through their collaborative creative practice.

As new owners, the Maurices’ said they were excited to build on Quest Dubbo’s strong reputation while strengthening connections with the local community and business sector.

“We’re proud to be continuing the next chapter of Quest Dubbo as a locally connected family business,” Jim and Lindy Maurice said.

Level crossing upgrade at Warne Street, Wellington

Community Notification

May 2026

Transport for NSW acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the lands on which we work and pays respect to Elders past and present.

On behalf of Transport for NSW, UGL Regional Linx (UGLRL) is upgrading the level crossing at Warne Street, Wellington, between April and September 2026.

What work are we doing?

The level crossing at Warne Street, Wellington, is an active level crossing currently equipped with signage and flashing lights. To further improve safety, boom gates will be installed as a part of the upgrade.

The work will be completed in three stages.

Stage one was completed on 1 May 2026.

Stage two will involve preparation work for the installation of the boom gates, between 28 May 2026 and 19 June 2026. During this work, a 1.4-kilometre detour will be in place via Warne Street, Percy Street, Gisborne Street and Simpson Street with an extended journey time of about two minutes. A map of the detour is available over the page.

Stage three will commission and activate the new lights, booms, and pedestrian signals during a possession in September 2026.

The community will be notified ahead of any work.

When and where will we be working?

We'll carry out this important work at Warne Street, Wellington, from 28 May 2026 to 19 June 2026, between 7 am and 5 pm. This will include some weekend work on 30 May 2026 to 19 June 2026.

A map of the work location is available over the page.

What will this mean for you?

UGLRL is committed to minimising the impact of work on the local community. During the work, you will notice:

- temporary closure of Warne Street, with a 1.4-kilometre detour and an extended journey time of two minutes
- increased vehicle movements in the area
- some noise from machinery

Managing our impacts

UGLRL will take all necessary steps to minimise community and environmental impacts. This includes, but is not limited to:

- turning off machinery when not in use
- instructing workers to keep noise to a minimum
- servicing machinery to reduce noise and environmental impact

Why we are doing this work

The Australian and NSW governments are jointly funding the upgrade of the Warne Street level crossing through the Australian Government's Regional Level Crossing Upgrade Fund (RLCUF) and the NSW Level Crossing Improvement Program (LCIP). Together, these programs will upgrade twenty-three high-priority level crossings in regional areas with high-intensity LED lights, bells, and retro-reflective boom gates to improve safety and reduce the risk of collisions and near hits.

Site Location and Detour

The yellow star identifies the worksite. The red line indicates the 1.4-kilometre detour in place from 28 May 2026 to 19 June 2026, via Warne Street, Percy Steet, Gisborne Street and Simpson Street, with an extended journey time of about two minutes.

More Information

UGLRL prioritises working closely with the local community. If you have any questions or are likely to be affected by this work, please contact the Communications Team and provide your location.

Hatters high tea

A CHANGE in the season, so why not an excuse to enjoy a High Tea. That’s just what happened in Whiteley Street last Saturday when Lorraine and Neville Gould invited friends around for a relaxing, worry-free morning, bringing a favourite hat for the occasion.

Business support package an insult

I WAS keeping the pressure on the Government in Parliament last week to express the real anger and frustration gripping the Central West over the indefinite closure of the Great Western Highway. The business support package announced recently by the NSW Government for businesses being smashed to pieces by the indefinite closure of the Great Western Highway is an insult. It’s proof that our region continues to be ignored and neglected by governments in Macquarie Street and Canberra.

This closure has been caused by the negligence of governments. The NSW Government well knew that the Convict Bridge would fail. Instead of fixing it, they chose to monitor and prioritise other road projects, including $2 billion for a new Sydney expressway to the airport. Our local businesses are going broke through their negligence yet all they can offer is $10,000 which wouldn’t even cover a week’s wages for some of our businesses. This package is totally and utterly inadequate and highlights a government totally out of touch with what’s happening on the ground on the western side of the sandstone curtain.

Governments are supposed to serve the people, not wreck their businesses and insult them with pathetic and inadequate support packages that will make little difference to business owners who are struggling to put food on the table for themselves and their employees. The package also doesn’t even cover businesses in Lithgow or further west. Why? The answer can only be to save money. It’s scandalous. The package also ignores larger businesses who have employees at risk of being laid off because of this debacle.

And the inadequate support package offered to local councils just adds insult to injury. I recently moved a motion in the Australian Parliament calling on governments to bring in a support package for our businesses going broke because of the indefinite closure of the Great Western Highway, and also to commit major funding in the budget for improved road access between the Central West and Sydney. Unbelievably, when it came to a vote, no Labor or One Nation MPs supported it, and hardly any Liberals or Nationals either. Rest assured that I’ll be keeping up the fight for

with Mathew Dickerson, Axxis Comworld

I ENJOY riding bikes. Mountain biking, in particular. Dirt tends to hurt less than bitumen if you fall off, and there are generally fewer cars to worry about on the bush trails I like to explore. Over the years, though, I’ve noticed something quietly changing among my riding mates. More and more of them are turning up with e-bikes. I’ve resisted for as long as possible. Partly out of stubbornness, partly because I still enjoy the challenge of grinding up a steep climb under my own steam. But I also know the day will come when I give in to the inevitable and accept the extra help. What I hadn’t really thought about was the next stage after that. Not the day when cycling becomes harder, but the day when simply keeping up with your family on a bushwalk or holiday hike starts to feel like a challenge. Technology, it seems, has already been planning for that future. Welcome to the age of the exoskeleton.

6 THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 2026 WELLINGTON & DISTRICT LEADER

For decades, powered exoskeletons belonged in science fiction films or military research labs. They were the sort of bulky robotic suits worn by movie heroes battling aliens or lifting impossible weights. In the real world, early versions were mostly designed for soldiers, factory workers or people recovering from serious injuries. Now they are beginning to appear in hiking gear catalogues. One of the newest examples is a wearable robotic system that straps around your waist and thighs, using electric motors to assist your leg movements while walking or climbing. Think of it as an e-bike for your hips. The technology is surprisingly compact. Carbon-fibre braces connect to small but powerful motors that can sense how you move and gently push your legs forward as you walk. Built-in artificial intelligence analyses your stride and adjusts the assistance depending on whether you are climbing hills, walking on flat ground or accelerating.

On steep inclines, users describe climbing stairs as if they were moving escalators. Long uphill hikes become easier. Sand, which normally drains every ounce of energy from your legs, suddenly feels manageable. Some systems even include a “boost” mode that briefly adds extra power for tougher terrain. Of course, we are still in the awkward teenage years of this technology. The devices can look clunky and make enough mechanical whirring noises to attract curious glances from everyone nearby. There are also obvious safety concerns. When robotics move from factory floors into everyday life, there is always the possibility of something jerking unexpectedly or running flat at the wrong moment. But even in these early stages, the direction is fascinating. We are steadily moving from technology that connects to our bodies - phones, watches and earbuds - to technology that physically enhances our bodies. The e-bike was really the first mainstream taste of this shift.

It quietly changed cycling from something limited by fitness into something more accessible and inclusive. Exoskeletons could do something similar for walking and hiking. Imagine retirees continuing to tackle national park trails well past their eighties. Imagine grandparents keeping pace with energetic grandchildren. Imagine workers in physically demanding jobs reducing injuries and fatigue with subtle robotic assistance. Eventually, these systems may become so light and discreet that we stop noticing them altogether. Today’s bulky battery packs could shrink into flexible materials woven into fabric. Artificial intelligence may become smart enough to predict slips before they happen or automatically adjust support depending on terrain. If a quiet little robot strapped to your legs helps you keep up with your kids on a bushwalk one day, maybe that’s not such a bad future.

Bernard Sheridan shares wool classing stories at Probus

John Trounce presents Bernard Sheridan a thank you gift after Bernard's detailed memories of his wool classing life.

AT THE May Probus Club monthly meeting members had a most interesting morning hearing about Bernard Sheridan's contribution to the wool industry.

It was a blast from the past to hear Bernard use all the old shearing shed expressions that some of us have very fond memories of as children.

Bernard went through a four-year Tafe course where he said they were very well prepared to become rural property managers and competent Wool Classers.

In contrast today the course is done on line for six weeks which has resulted in a drop of wool quality being sent to market.

Through his life Bernard has gained plenty of experience around local sheds and has contributed much to the wool industry as supervisor of many wool sheds in the Central West.

Bernard has an obvious love of the land, successfully working his own property until it was sold to move closer to town.

Bernard currently holds a position with Carmichael Wool which has allowed him to follow his passion for the whole of his working life.

We thank Bernard for his contribution and insights into the Wool Industry.

Heritage lost

LAST WEEK it was revealed that an Aboriginal heritage rock shelter was damaged beyond recovery during construction of an access track for the Central-West Orana Renewable Energy Zone, near Gulgong.

The presence of the rock shelter was known before construction began, and while the proponent, ACEREZ, has admitted fault and apologised for not fully following the process to protect the shelter, this blatant disregard for Aboriginal culture and heritage should never have happened.

Unbelievably, this announcement came as we were debating the Government’s Energy Legislation Amendment (Prioritising Renewable Energy) Bill 2026, which if passed, will remove independent oversight, increase Ministerial powers and bypass effective community consultation to fast-track renewable energy projects in regional NSW.

In Parliament last week I called on the Minns Labor Government to expedite investigations into this incident to ensure the destruction of Aboriginal artefacts does not happen again during their continued botched rollout of renewables in the regions.

Highway debate

As mentioned in last week’s column, my 17 March Notice of Motion on the closure of the Great Western Highway was debated in Parliament. This motion called on the Legislative Assembly to: recognise the economic and transport importance of the Great Western Highway; acknowledge the severe impact of the road closure at Victoria Pass; and, call on the Government to provide a clear and publicly accessible plan to either replace the Convict Bridge or construct a long-term bypass so that the situation does not cripple regional connectivity.

Unfortunately, instead of providing the clear and publicly accessible plan requested, the Government chose to take the motion as an attack and amended it to completely remove the ask for long-term clarity for the people of western NSW. The motion was never about stone throwing. Yes, what has unfolded with the Convict Bridge could have happened under any government, but the reality is that it’s happened under the Minns Labor Government and it’s their job to fix it.

When in government the NSW Nationals and Liberal Coalition had a plan for a tunnel to secure the future of the road corridor through the Blue Mountains.

The longer this situation goes on, the clearer it is that the Minns Government had no forward plan for this stretch of road when it scrapped the idea of a tunnel, and to this day, still has no better alternative.

I thank my colleagues who took the time to support me in this motion.

Business confidence dwindles

The results of the NSW Small Business Commissioner’s April 2026 ‘Small Business Momentum Survey’ and it’s not looking good.

Business confidence in NSW has collapsed to its lowest level on record, even worse than during the pandemic.

Retail confidence has crashed, businesses are worried about rising costs, weak demand and cash flow, and many are now pulling back investment and expansion plans.

Under the Minns Labor Government’s inaction, we’ve seen 6200 businesses close their doors in the past year, and it’s only going to get worse.

And while Federal Labor rushes ahead with tax changes that will further hurt small businesses, the Premier is not stepping up.

Instead, he’s taking a step back and distancing himself from his own Federal Labor colleagues.

Small businesses across NSW need a government who understands the pressures they’re under, and will restore the confidence, certainty they need.

Return and Earn supporting students

NSW Return and Earn is partnering with The Smith Family to support students experiencing disadvantage.

Through this partnership, for every 30 eligible cans or bottles donated until 18 October, one book will be provided to a young person being supported by The Smith Family.

In the Dubbo electorate, The Smith Family supports more than 600 students through their flagship Learning for Life scholarship program and partners with about 10 schools to deliver educational support.

To help, simply return an eligible can or bottle and follow the prompts to donate your return at a NSW Return and Earn site.

ACEREZ BUSTED: DESTRUCTION OF WIRADJURI SITES EXPOSED!

ACEREZ - a partnership of Acciona, Cobra, and Endeavour Energy, working for the NSW Government's EnergyCo, are responsible for building the massive transmission grid for the Central-West Orana Renewable Energy Zone.

ACEREZ's recent statements that they're not damaging Indigenous sites as they bulldoze through their transmission lines have been proven to be lies.

They've been caught out and the destruction is real.

After I raised this issue on social media, ACEREZ was forced to admit the truth: workers on the project have totally obliterated an irreplaceable, registered Wiradjuri rock shelter near the Cope Road between Gulgong and Ulan.

Wiped out by a bulldozer or blasting, rubble is all that's left. Wiradjuri representatives are appalled and outraged by this act of wanton vandalism, and insider whistleblowers are telling me that more culturally sensitive sites have also been damaged.

The dishonesty and lies from ACEREZ just keep coming. They recently put out a statement denying any cultural heritage had been damaged or destroyed north of Gulgong.

Well, I went back out to the Merotherie Road grinding grooves site with Wiradjuri reps, and what we found is scandalous, disgraceful, and totally disrespectful.

Another ACEREZ lie exposed.

Some of the representatives with me were on the original 2022 survey. They recommended the entire rock ridge be preserved for further investigation - that never happened.

The flagged protection zone only covered the very obvious exposed grooves, completely ignoring the 20 to 30-metre buffer zone needed to protect this sacred history. Instead, ACEREZ cut trees down right on top of the grinding grooves and bulldozed over them. Ancient grooves are now completely missing, and other rock artefacts, such as "turtle rock", are lost.

Local Indigenous reps now feel they were just brought out to tick a box in 2022, and afterwards ACEREZ did whatever they wanted with further engagement.

We've seen the same gross hypocrisy across the region, from the woodchipping of a scar tree to the mowing down of ancient trees and the killing and orphaning of baby native birds.

It seems there is one law for ACEREZ and the NSW Government, and another law for everyone else. If anyone else caused this kind of destruction, they'd be in the slammer!

They lied about the killing and orphaning of the baby native birds, the obliteration of the rock shelter and now the destruction at the grinding grooves.

It's a rotten ACEREZ culture which has been built on arrogance, lies, spin, recklessness and a disregard for local communities and local people.

ACEREZ thinks it's above the law.

It's a rogue operation.

BUSINESS SUPPORT PACKAGE - AN INSULT!

I was keeping the pressure on the Government in Parliament last week to express the real anger and frustration gripping the Central West over the indefinite closure of the Great Western Highway.

The business support package announced recently by the NSW Government for businesses being smashed to pieces by the indefinite closure of the Great Western Highway is an insult.

It's proof that our region continues to be ignored and neglected by governments in Macquarie Street and Canberra.

This closure has been caused by the negligence of governments.

The NSW Government well knew that the Convict Bridge would fail.

Instead of fixing it, they chose to monitor and prioritise other road projects, including $2 billion for a new Sydney expressway to the airport.

Our local businesses are going broke through their negligence yet all they can offer is $10,000 which wouldn't even cover a week's wages for some of our businesses.

This package is totally and utterly inadequate and highlights a government totally out of touch with what's happening on the ground on the western side of the sandstone curtain.

Governments are supposed to serve the people, not wreck their businesses and insult them with pathetic and inadequate support packages that will make little difference to business owners who are struggling to put food on the table for themselves and their employees.

The package also doesn't even cover businesses in Lithgow or further west. Why? The answer can only be to save money. It's scandalous.

The package also ignores larger businesses who have employees at risk of being laid off because of this debacle.

And the inadequate support package offered to local councils just adds insult to injury.

The state and federal governments are going to be hearing a lot more from our communities until we get meaningful support, a proper plan to deal with this closure and the delivery of genuine high-speed access in and out of the central west.

FOR OUR LOCAL ENVIRONMENT AND OUR FARMERS

Wonderful to catch up with Phoebe, Don, Allan, Amy & Emily in Yeoval to discuss the fantastic grant funding secured for local projects across our region!

A huge congratulations to Little River Landcare on securing more than $950,000 through the NSW Government's Low Carbon Landscapes Grant for their "Restoration Economics" project.

This investment will support environmental planting initiatives across the Central Tablelands, delivering massive benefits for local producers, biodiversity, and long-term land sustainability!

The Zaddocks scale is a decimal growth scale. The scale is based on 10 primary growth stages (0-9). Each primary growth stage is divided into 10 secondary growth stages that indicate the number of plant parts on the main stem or secondary stage of development, extending the scale from 00-99. Each point on the scale has two digits; the first indicating the growth stage and the second the number of plant parts or secondary stage of development for example, z15 means growth stage 1 with 5 leaves on the main stem. Z24 means growth stage 2 with four tillers.

Several of the growth stages occur together, so a plant may have more than one decimal code applied at the same time, for example a plant may be producing leaves and tillering at the same time and so could have a code of Z15, 22 meaning it has five leaves on the main stem and two tillers.

The wheat grain is the reproductive unit as well as the end-use product. The wheat grain can be broadly divided into three components:- 1. Seed coat and aleurone layer(bran) and is 14% of the seed. 2. Endosperm is 83% of the seed, it provides energy for germination and feeds it till the roots establish and it provides the white flour. 3. Embryo (Germ) contains the main plant structures. It is made up of Scutellum, Plumule, and Radicle. (to be continued)

Rises on both sale days

The tone had been set from the previous week close of sales to last week’s positive finish, giving rise to strong gains throughout all indicators, particularly the Merino fleece. On Tuesday the largest rises in all three selling centres came from the West, playing catchup after not offering on day two the previous week. Lifts were between 6 and 79 cents nationally on opening day, followed up with 4 to 65 cent gains on Wednesday, rounding out improved prices of up to 97 cents by the end of the week. Skirtings improved on Wednesday after holding the levels from the previous week, crossbreds continued to be well supported, with substantial rises at the finest end, and cardings had another good result in an unbroken run since November. Merino fleece types for the previous three weeks had been hard to gain a lot of interest, but that changed from the opening day. Exporters and Indent buyers alike were active from the first lot securing as much volume as they could. We are in the traditional smallest offering period of the year, with all sectors well aware of predicted production and supply limitations, meaning growers are reaping the rewards. The largest mills in China need to buy every week and keep machines running, whilst managing their trading of tops to spinners. Some of them have held stock back over the past few years and are now averaging price for tops with securing greasy wool for processing, meaning their positioning in the market with these rises is strong. Medium to smaller processors would be finding trading conditions challenging, with spinners resisting price increases in line with the current market and those mills not having the levels of stock to draw upon like the large processors. Restructuring of overcapacity could be something that comes into play with the lack of wool availability, but that scenario has been with Chinese processing for some time now, with reduction in processors generally in line with supply. It does tend to fuel the issue of the largest processors having the ability to be more dominant because of reduced competition, but there are many mills that have invested heavily in modern machinery, giving confidence to plenty of competition regardless of the supply volume that will be about in the future. After offering 25,712 bales, numbers will reduce to 23,288 this week, with just Sydney and Melbourne having sales. Macwool and Carmichael wool had 824 bales on Tuesday.

YOUR WOOL IN SAFE HANDS

Stock report by Ross Plasto

DUBBO CATTLE.. 1520 head. Mixed offering of young cattle, large percentage of cows. Usual buyers present, dearer market, particularly on heifers. Yearling steers to feed 446 to 556c/kg, finished types to processors to 492c/kg. Heifers to feed 429 to 522c/kg. Better trade types 430 to 520c/kg. Young cattle to restockers 380 to 512c/kg. Grown steers to 490c, heifers 379 to 479c/kg. Heavy finished cows 389 to 426c/kg, plainer types 330 to 380c/kg. Best heavy bulls to 425/kg.

DUBBO SHEEP.. 11,020 lambs. Quality good for small yarding, plenty of trade weight lambs in demand from feeders and stockers to put on crop. Heavy lambs well supplied, some extra heavy weights. Merino lambs limited and mostly trade weights. Light lambs limited. Market stronger despite less buyers.

Trade lambs to feeder and restocking orders $240 to $298, similar weighted lambs to trade $280 to $301, up $15 to $20, ave 1210c/kg. Heavy lambs 24 to 26kg $11 stronger, $295 to $316 or 1185c/kg; 26 to 30kg $298 to $347, extra heavy to $400, ave 1100c to 1130c/kg cwt. Best Merinos to $299, ave 1100c/kg. Hoggets to $312.

MUTTON.. Numbers eased, quality mixed, prices rose as processors competed for the limited supply.

Racing at Brewarrina

NOTED FRONTRUNNER Toulon Factor was not given an easy time in the leader’s role before winning the feature race, before a very good crowd on Saturday at Brewarrina.

The overall winner of 14 races including six at Armidale, Mudgee, Warren, Narrabri, Nyngan and Brewarrina since September, the nine-year-old grey gelding has on most occasions, established mid-race leads of up to 10 lengths and romped to victory.

Not so in the 1200 metres Zeus Global and Beds On The Barwon-Brewarrina Cup when the Jane Clement, Mendooran trained Toulon Factor was taken on for the lead by several rivals, from the outset.

With regular rider apprentice Gabrielle Johnston in the saddle, Toulon Factor ($2.20 favourite) looked vulnerable when holding only a slender margin turning for home however responded gamely to race away and win by almost three lengths from the Queensland trained Roll Up (Zoe Hunt, $3) and Line Of Law (Hollie Hull, $5.50).

Gabrielle Johnston then combined again with Jane Clement to win the following race with Hardyo ($1.80 fav) which raced outside Hemsted (Hollie Hull, $4) before drawing clear to score by three lengths with Allande (Liam Blanch,$3) third in the 1600m Craig and Nikki Redmond Transport Benchmark 50 Handicap.

Wendy Peel, who had landed 231 winners as a jockey, celebrated her first win since recently being granted a dual trainer-jockey licence when Dodge The Dark owned by David Simmons from Trundle and Mark Ward (Condobolin), won the 1200m Stabilising Group Benchmark 45 Handicap at Brewarrina.

Now with stables at Nyngan, Wendy Peel led all the way on Dodge The Dark ($3.60) to beat the strong finishing Blackhill Kitty (Leanne Boyd, $4) and Notleanormean (Hollie Hull, $4).

Fellow Nyngan trainer Greg O’Neill produced a very smart debut maker in the three-year-old gelding Cod On Ice , runaway winner of the 1200m Rebel Ag and Civil & Quarries Maiden Plate.

Inquisitrix led briefly before Cod On Ice (Dylan Stanley, $8 to $6) took control and cleared out to win by nearly 10 lengths from Inquisitrix (Liam Blanch, $4) and Lotina (Leanne Boyd, $13).

Crossing the border from Queensland, Cunnamulla trainer Monique Gavin supplied the quinnella in the 900m Thomas Foods International when Zouphisticate (Leanne Boyd, $16 to $12) led throughout to beat Zouchase (Angel Brennan, $6) and Adviser (Gabrielle Johnston, $3).

Many improvements have been carried out at the Brewarrina racecourse and wrapping up a very successful meeting the Connie Greig, Dubbo trained The Bentley (Hollie Hull, $1.60 to $1.40 fav) from second early, careered to a 13-lengths win over Recovery Road (Dylan Stanley, $3) and Culgoa Kate (Zoe Hunter, $4) in the 1600m Woodhams Petroleum and Ag Vista Class 1 & Maiden Plate.

NATIONAL SIMULTANEOUS STORYTIME

What a booktastic day at St Mary's! Our students joined thousands of children across Australia for National Simultaneous Storytime, sharing in this year's inspiring story, Luna Roo. The excitement continued with Aussie Supporter poster awards, fantastic Aussie-themed outfits and special NSS treat bags for every student, complete with a bookmark, sticker and delicious kangaroo cookie. From start to finish, the day was filled with fun, creativity and a celebration of reading, making it a wonderful opportunity to inspire a lifelong love of literacy in our students.

Celebrating National Simultaneous Storytime!

Today we joined schools and libraries across Australia to celebrate National Simultaneous Storytime with Luna Roo the Kangaroo Baller by Adam Jackson and Adrian Lloyd. Students enjoyed listening to the story, following along with the illustrator's drawing tutorial, and playing a fun Luna Roo board game. It was a fantastic day of stories, creativity, and fun!

150th Wellington Show. Congratulations to all of our brilliant students and dedicated staff! We are incredibly proud of the hard work, teamwork, and dedication that went into creating this absolute masterpiece of an art display. A special thank you goes to Mrs Pandey, our creative team lead, for bringing her exceptional imagination and vision to this project. We would also like to congratulate all the students who took the initiative to submit individual entries for the show competitions. Fantastic effort, everyone!

National Simultaneous Storytime. What a day! We kicked off National Simultaneous Storytime by diving into Luna Roo, then kept the energy high with custom soccer jersey designing and an outdoor skills clinic. Our students brought so much creativity and teamwork to the field!

Michael Salem Mellick - The M.M. Co, 100 years of Wellington's history

Part 1. By Marie Hoffman.

MICHAEL MELLICK or Mick, as he was so well known, arrived in Wellington by steam train in April 1926.

He carried his port down a very uncommercialised Swift Street and arrived to take over the shop of J. J. Addler at 150 Percy.

As he stood at the doorway of his shop, the scene was very different to that of to-day. The town tennis courts were directly opposite and the bowling green at the south end.

On 20th May 1926, the M.M. Co. announced to the public of Wellington and surrounding districts that they had purchased the assigned estate of J.J. Adler and decided to sell the whole stock and also a lot of other new goods regardless of cost.

Some examples were: heavy flannelette 8 shillings and sixpence; single bed pure wool blankets 23/6 a pair; pure wool cardigans 8/6; men's suits 4/6 and 54 inch white sheeting 1shilling and a penny half-penny a yard.

Soon after Mick arrived in Wellington, he purchased an Overland Sedan car from Jim Letson, a neighbour in Percy Street.

The method of learning to drive was get in and have a go.

On 1st January 1928 Mick married his childhood sweetheart, Georgette, at the orthodox church in Sydney.

At the ceremony Rev. Father Nicholas Shehadie officiated. After a brief honeymoon the couple returned to Wellington where they made their home above the store.

The ensuing years were the formative years of the M.M. Co.

The depression period severely interfered with the lives of all people.

Mick Mellick's understanding and feeling for the people of this district became more apparent.

In 1933 the M.M. Cup was presented to the Wellington Rugby League Football Club for competition.

The cup was of beautiful design and stood at least two foot six inches tall.

At the time the Wellington Times newspaper stated, 'It can honestly be said that there is not another cup in the West to equal it.'

The President of the Club hoped that Wellington would have the luck to hold it for a while at least.

In 1935 the Melick Cup was played for at Wellington Showground against old opponents, Yeoval and Wellington.

By 1936 Mick and Georgette were the proud parents of two daughters, Yvonne and Diana, and the M. M. Co had undergone the first of several extensions.

The improved shop now displayed and sold every type of frock any lady could wish for and hats were beautifully displayed.

Mick Mellick was seen, by a Wellington Times reporter as, 'A keen sportsman primarily in bowls and hunting.

'Of course, his garden was always full of flowers, fruit and vegetables which he so generously shared with his neighbours and friends.'

The M.M. Co took on a new image in the town. It was the first shop to have huge plate glass windows. Around the windows were tiles. New showcases were installed.

The family welcomed their first son, Michael and there was much rejoicing.

In 1943 Padre Harold Graham, later Archdeacon arrived in town.

He arrived just in time to greet the Mellick's second son, Edmond.

As quoted in the Times, 'The young bowler's head was wetted last night by the Wellington Bowlers when the arrival's health was drunk.'

The 1950s was a progressive era, Mick Mellick again extended the M.M. Co. in a major expansion, premises next door was purchased, demolished and a modern extension added to the existing store, thereby doubling the previous space available.

As the last floorboards were being placed in position, preparations were already in hand for the opening party to be held that night, the 4th January 1955.

During 1964, the M.M Co was further extended to incorporate 'The Georgette Salon' run by Diana Mellick and named after her mum. The store also held their first Fashion Bazaar at the Bowling Club.

Born at Blerran – El Koura, Lebanon, Mick Mellick passed away in Wellington on 30th November 1969 at the age of 69 years, after living a remarkable life.

From arriving in Wellington 43 years earlier with the purchase price of a small business he had built and expanded the M.M. Co into something he was really proud of. He was happy in the knowledge that he had seen his family grow up and all firmly established.

The only disappointment was that he did not live to see any of his grandchildren. What a wonderful time he would have had with Murray, Michael, Ward and Janelle.

Even though Michael and Diana moved to Sydney to live and Edmond built a home in Maxwell Street, the family home was still considered to be above the shop where it all started in 1926.

Mick was survived by his wife, Georgette, two daughters, Yvonne and Diana (Wellington) and two sons, Michael (Sydney) and Edmond (Wellington).

Mrs. Mellick was essentially a home and family person but also found time to devote her energies to the C.W.A. and Red Cross.

Before her death, in March 1990, Georgette Mellick received the distinction of being made a Life Member of the Red Cross Society.

She was predeceased by her husband and by grandson Michael, the son of Michael and Maria.

In April 1976 the M.M. Company's celebrated its 50th Anniversary in the Civic Centre.

It was a truly gala occasion.

During the evening musical items were presented through the re-enactment of the establishment of the M.M. Company and the growth of Wellington.

It was a charity event, and the proceeds were presented to Wellington Historical Society and the Quota Club of Wellington.

During 1977 Edmond donated a trophy cup to Wellington Cricket Club and known as the Calypso Cup which was held on Australia Day weekend.

Only Wellington teams who played in the Hardwick Cup could enter. This Cup was played for many years.

Following Mick's passing Edmond continued to run the business and eventually the premises was divided into
