Victorious Redbacks Seconds

Three teams make it to finals - Firsts, Seconds and Womens

A POWER-PACKED 80 minutes of ‘Champagne Rugby’ resulted in Wellington Redbacks Second Grade mens taking out the New Holland Premiership for 2026.

Strong opposition from Narromine Gorillas was not enough, with the Redbacks defeating them 23 to 17.

Wellington Redbacks Seniors club vice-president, Abe Dearmer said player numbers through the season told the 2026 story.

“Before we put the boots away for the year, it is worth stopping to look at what this club just did,” he said.

“We stepped up into a higher competition and all three of our sides made the finals.

“Our Second Grade men went the whole way, beating Narromine Gorillas Rugby Club 23-17 to be crowned premiers.

“First Grade and our Women’s XV both earned their place in the finals, finishing fourth, before being knocked out in the Minor Semi-Final and Qualifying Final respectively.

“Off the field, the numbers tell their own story.

“We went from 29 registered players in 2025 to 89 this season. Thirty of those were women pulling on the maroon for our Women’s XV, who fought their way through to a preliminary final.

And we are not finished. In 2027 we add a Colts side, giving our young players a genuine pathway into senior rugby at their own club.

“None of it happens without the people around it.

“Thank you to our volunteers and committee, who quietly do the work every week; our supporters, who turn up home and away and to our sponsors.

“Special mention to our coaches Sam Webster, D’Arcy Needham, Brooke Forgione and Christie O’Rourke, and to our team managers Cherie Hughes and Carolyn Morley.”

Planning for overtaking lanes near Geurie

It was great to have The Hon. Jenny Aitchison MP, Minister for Roads and Regional Transport in Geurie on a rather wet Tuesday this week to be announcing that planning is underway on a new overtaking lane on the Mitchell Highway between Dubbo and Wellington.

The planning upgrades and design works are scheduled for completion by the end of 2026.

I must commend the Minister for taking swift action after I spoke to her a couple of times on the issue of a lack of overtaking lanes between Wellington and Dubbo, and the need to work towards having the 110km/h speed limit reinstated.

The provision of more overtaking lanes seems to me to be the path to the speed limit being restored.

The planned design work involves developing a solution on the network that includes a new westbound overtaking lane west of Geurie, shoulder widening, implementation of a new wide centre line to increase the distance between oncoming lanes of traffic, and new safety barriers to reduce the risk of run-off-road crashes.

The development work has been funded through the Network Optimisation Program and the NSW Government’s Towards Zero Road Safety Program (TZRSP).

The Towards Zero Road Safety Program has set targets of a 50 per cent reduction in fatalities on NSW roads and a 30pc reduction in serious injuries by delivering upgrades to the existing road network.

Any new work would be in addition to the $26 million worth of safety upgrades currently under way on a 6.2-kilometre section of the highway at Deep Creek, between Wongarbon and Geurie.

Work on the Deep Creek upgrades started in late 2025 and will take up to two years to complete, delivering wider highway shoulders, wider centre lines, upgraded gutters and kerbing, upgraded stormwater drainage and new safety barriers.

I’ve often thought that an overtaking lane may have been able to be incorporated into these works, but it is important to note that I’m not a traffic engineer.

The communities of Dubbo and Wellington have led the calls for a new overtaking lane to make it easier to pass slower-moving vehicles, reducing driver frustration and potentially dangerous driving, and I’m pleased those calls are being listened to. ***

The Bush Summit

I’ve secured meetings with both the Prime Minister and the NSW Premier when they are in Dubbo at The Bush Summit this week where I’ll be saying exactly what we need in our region to make our lives better.

The focus will be on health, housing and infrastructure funding.

Our Region is booming and the Summit is the chance to make sure housing, health, transport and sporting infrastructure keep up with the pace of that growth, not only for Wellington, Dubbo and our villages, but also for the wider Western NSW communities that rely on us as a major centre.

With the Premier I raise as a priority the need for the Stage 5 rebuild of Dubbo Base Hospital to be funded and delivered, along with upgrades to Wellington Hospital.

The General/Medical Ward and Paediatrics Ward are in critical need of an upgrade and are under increasing pressure despite the best efforts of the hardworking hospital staff.

If the Prime Minister could give serious consideration to a Medicare Urgent Care Clinic in our Region, that would provide faster treatment for minor injuries and illnesses while easing pressure on our Emergency Departments.

It’s something our community needs, especially with the cost of living the way it is.

I will be doing everything I can to ensure this isn’t just a talk-fest, and that the needs of our community are heard by those with the chequebooks.

Until next week,
Josh Black

Letter to the editor

Letter

As we move rapidly toward a Social Democracy and involve the inefficiency of Government more and more in every aspect of our lives it is interesting to look back.

Housing for example is and was always an issue and in the early 1970’s we were fortunate as “young married” to experience a scheme to enable first home builders to get into a home.

A parcel of Crown Land at Engadine on the southern outskirts of Sydney was subdivided, and roads and services established, then offered for purchase at the cost of development only.

Those interested went into a ballot. We won a block in that ballot and my recollection was that we paid just $1400 to cover the cost of development and built a three-bed, one bathroom brick veneer home for $12,600 with a $4000 deposit and I expressed fear that we would never be able to afford the loan repayments.

Our next exposure in housing was a move into Company Housing when we moved to New Norfolk in Tasmania for a new job.

Attached are two photographs and an extract with details of how that company attracted and provided for its 1500+ three-shift 24/7 employees at minimal rental cost.

After a month or so we moved to a 10-house fully serviced “Executive Estate” close to that Company’s operations where my position could be best fulfilled, and my family provided with every convenience.

This was a great period in Australia’s short history, when many industries sought reliable, hard-working, stable, productive employees, and had the capacity to provide inducements to attract and keep them.

Nation Building undertakings were prevalent in this, and in Tasmania the Hydro Electric Commission built complete villages with all Community Amenities to attract the quality employees they required.

The Snowy Mountain Scheme had a similar model and even for the completion phase of Burrendong Dam, homes were built to attract and keep required employees.

An enduring benefit from this is that so many we’re able to ultimately purchase those efficiently built quality homes or gain from that low rent period of “finance building” to buy or build elsewhere.

In our situation for example, as the pursuits of our growing family changed, with the accrued financial benefit, we were able to purchase a suitable home, at Rosetta in Hobart, to meet the needs and we have subsequently purchased and lived in other homes in Melbourne, Maryvale and Wellington again to meet changing needs.

Housing and Community Services

The semi rural location of the Mill and the isolation of its forests has made it necessary for the Company to provide homes for a high proportion of its employees. The main housing schemes are at New Norfolk and Maydena. Most of the houses have a floor area of 1,050 square feet and include living room, three bedrooms and kitchen.

On its subdivision of 150 acres on the Northern bank of the River Derwent at New Norfolk, the Company has 450 houses. There is also a staff hostel with 26 single bedrooms.

The Company has 119 houses and a hostel for 54 single men at Maydena, 12 houses at Karanja and 6 at Wayatinah.

Recreational and sporting facilities provided by the Company are placed under the management of councils organised by the employees who, by co-operative efforts, have added numerous improvements.

On the sub-division at New Norfolk, there is a Community Hall with a fine auditorium which is in constant demand for a wide range of social functions. A Kindergarten was erected by voluntary labour on land and with materials supplied by the Company.

The sports ground known as the Boyer Oval has a large pavilion, in addition to dressing shed facilities. The latter provides space for gymnastics and athletic classes for the young members of the community. Adjacent are four tennis courts.

At Maydena, the Company has erected a large Community Hall with facilities for cinema shows. The local community, with the support of the Company, has developed further social and educational facilities, including a sports ground with grandstand and dressing room facilities, tennis courts, Pre-school and heated swimming pool.

The A.N.M. Social Services Fund provides sickness and accident pay benefits for wages employees and pharmaceutical and dental benefits for all employees and their dependants. The Fund is controlled by a Board of Trustees on which there are six representatives of the employees and four of the Company.

How it used to be done. Roger Everett explains how the Tasmanian Hydro Electric Commission built a complete village to attract staff.

Highlights include the Wellington Sheep Dash – the fast-paced and entertaining signature attraction and races six Merino wethers, each auctioned before their race with children of the highest bidder allowed to colour their wether the specific racing colours prior to each race.

There will be free children's activities with plenty to keep the kids entertained throughout the day, plus market stalls featuring a variety of local and visiting stallholders, food and refreshments, a Father's Day raffle, and a highlight will be the Tug of War Challenge.

Event coordinator Ian Parkes said Rotary members were thrilled to be bringing the Sheep Dash back to Wellington in 2026.

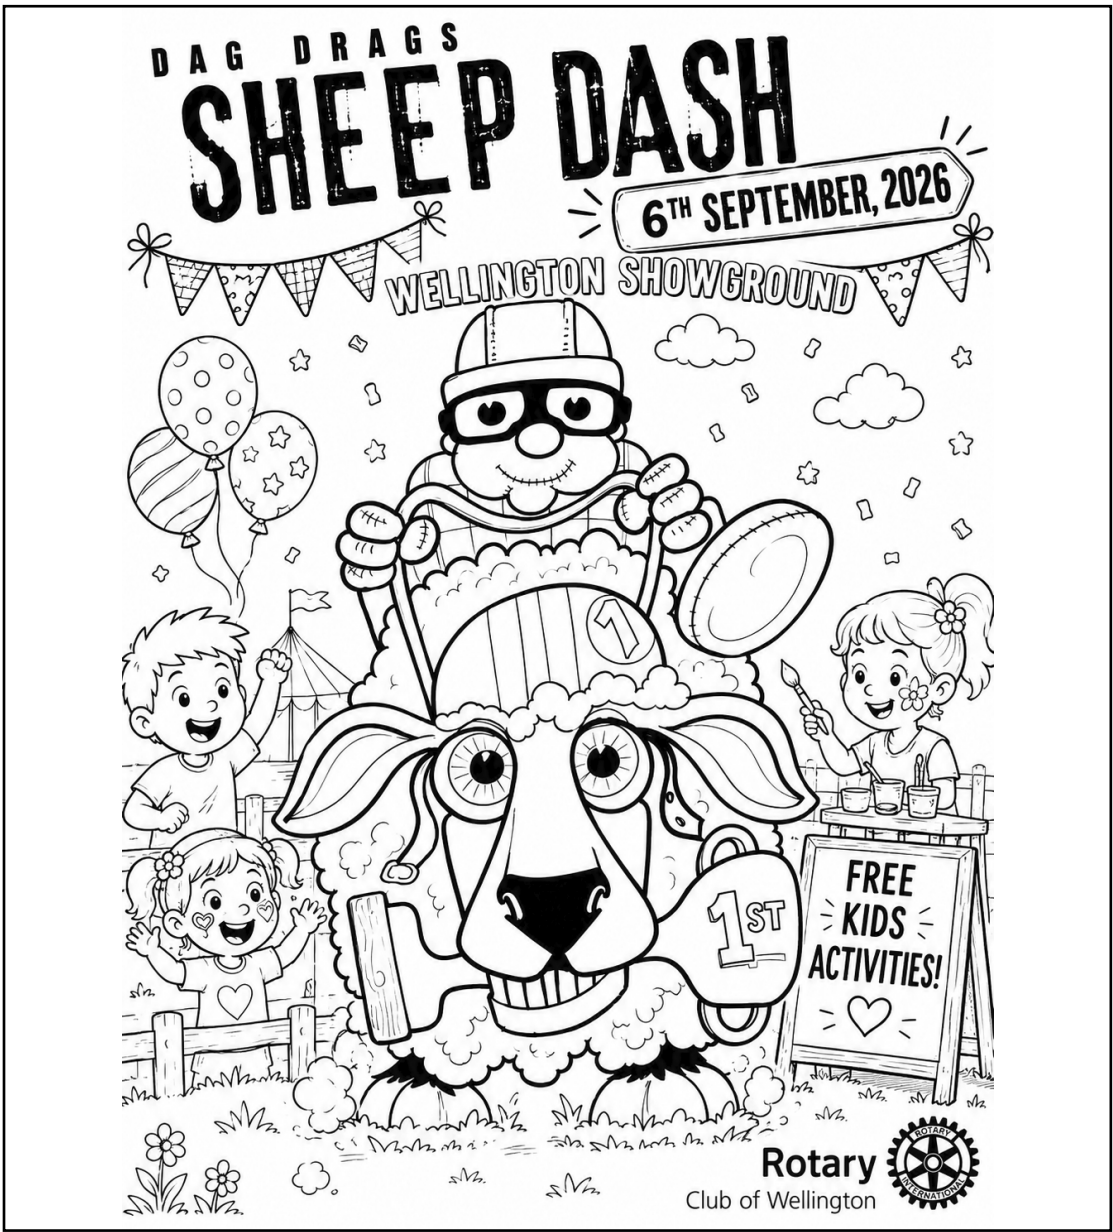

"Last year showed us just how much people embraced the event, and we're looking forward to creating another fantastic day for locals and visitors alike," Mr Parkes said.

"It's about having fun, bringing people together, celebrating Father's Day and, most importantly, supporting our community.

"So round up the family, bring Dad along and join us for a Father's Day with a difference."

Mr Parkes suggested bring a chair or a rug and enjoy a relaxed, welcoming and family-friendly atmosphere.

Men's Shed assists Arboretum

THINGS ARE in top gear out at the Burrendong Arboretum planting hundreds of young trees. But each tree needs a tree guard – and that where Wellington Men's Shed has come to assist.

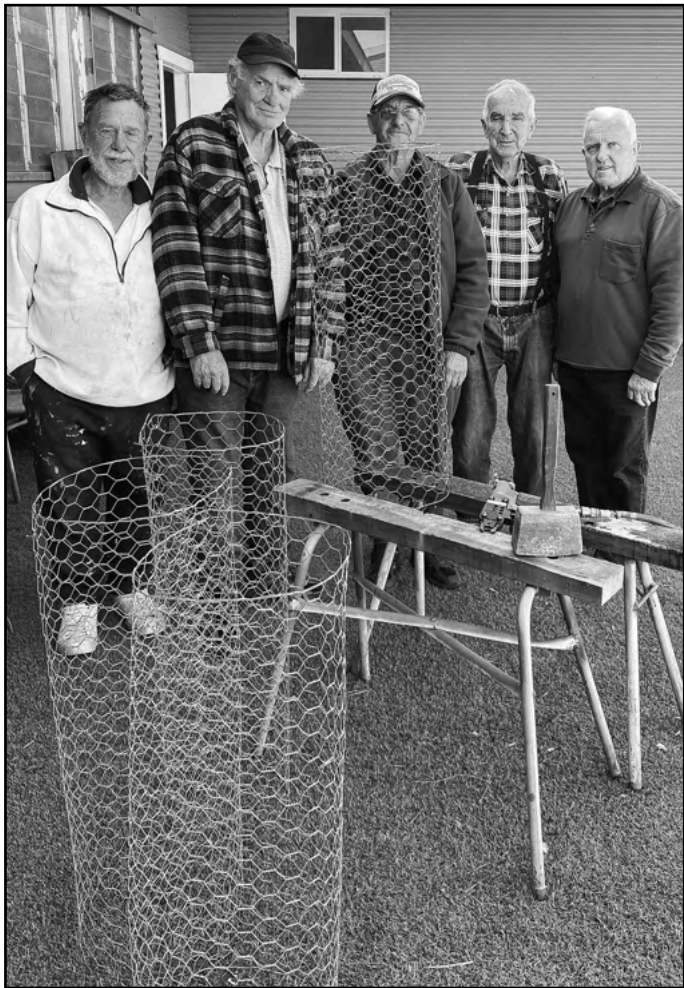

Plastic guards are too flimsy and mild steel mesh too expensive, however, there was a stockpile of used fence netting, but how to make so many guards with a limited volunteer base?

Friends of the Arboretum approached the Men's Shed for help and an assembly line going with the members cutting the old wire to size, rolling it then crimping it together get the job done.

Men's Shed spokesman James Titley said they couldn't keep up with the Arboretum volunteers "but hoped our efforts made planting easier".

The finished products now protecting native flora species at Burrendon Arboretum.

The assembly line members Graham, Ian, Ray, Ron and Barry as they prepare dozens of the required netting.

Rivercare clean up continues

IT'S ONLY a month or so since Mid Macquarie Landcare launched Wellington Rivercare and up to a dozen people joined on the day.

While there the group began some important work clearing rubbish and weeding along the Pioneer Park Bell River riverbank.

Last Saturday seven volunteers were back for a two-hour working bee along a 20-metre stretch of the riverbank.

They got into more weeding, litter collection and then planted 50 native shrubs propagated at Burrendong Arboretum including callistemon, dodonaea, leptospermum and acacias.

What's more, the team sighted a platypus which provided extra inspiration to take care of this habitat.

The next working bee will be on Saturday, September 19 and organisers are hoping for more devotees to lend a hand.

Wellington Rivercare volunteers cleared and planted 50 native flora species.

What a difference to the Bell Riverbank after the Rivercare volunteers' handywork.

Prohibited drugs charge Government fails on full ban on all gambling advs

A woman has been charged after allegedly attempting to take prohibited drugs into a correctional centre at Wellington on the weekend.

Orana Mid Western Police District officers were called to a correctional centre on Mudgee-Goolma Road, about 9.15am Sunday, August 23, following reports a person had attempted to bring prohibited drugs into the facility.

Police arrived and were told a 34-year-old woman had allegedly attempted to bring in cannabis and buprenorphine strips on her way in to visit a person when a drug detection dog gave a positive indication.

Officers allege the woman made attempts to throw the prohibited drugs into a nearby paddock during a search.

The woman was arrested and taken to Wellington Police Station where she was charged with six offences,

- * Possess prohibited drug (two counts)
- * Supply prohibited drug less than or equal to small quantity
- * Bring etc prohibited drug/plant into place of detention
- * Unlawfully bring etc anything into place of detention, and
- * Breach of bail.

The woman was refused bail and appeared before Bail Division Court 4 on Monday, August 24, where she was formally refused bail to reappear before Sutherland Local Court today, Thursday, August 27, 2026.

Pursuit through Wellington

A MAN has been charged over an alleged police pursuit and drug seizure in Wellington on Thursday night last week.

Officers attached to Orana Mid Western Police District were patrolling at about 9.30pm when they saw a Ford sedan on Whiteley Street allegedly driving dangerously with no lights.

When the driver allegedly ignored police direction to stop, a pursuit was initiated.

The pursuit continued through several streets with the vehicle allegedly reaching speeds of up to 120kmh in signposted 50kmh speed zones – before reaching Warruga Place, where the vehicle travelled off-road into a paddock behind an aged-care facility and hit a fence.

Police directed the driver – a 32-year-old man – to get out of the vehicle; while attempting to remove the driver, police will allege the driver attempted to accelerate away and a Taser was deployed.

Following a short foot pursuit, officers arrested the man, who was allegedly wearing a black balaclava.

During a search of the man and vehicle, police seized methylamphetamine, four mobile phones and scissors allegedly in his possession.

The vehicle was also allegedly displaying two different registration plates that did not match the vehicle.

The man was taken to Wellington Police Station where he was charged with seven offences,

- * Possess prohibited drug
- * Police pursuit - not stop - drive dangerously
- * Drive uninsured vehicle
- * Use unregistered registrable Class A motor vehicle on road
- * Use registrable vehicle not display authorised number-plates
- * Never licensed person drive vehicle on road, and
- * Hinder or resist police officer in the execution of duty.

He was refused bail to appear before Bail Division Court 4 the following day.

IN PARLIAMENT during the recent sitting week, I voted AGAINST the government’s weak, compromised half-measures on gambling advertising.

I’m not against gambling and enjoy the odd punt, but gambling addiction destroys lives, wrecks families, and hollows out regional communities across the Central West and Australia.

Between July 2023 and July 2026, Australians lost a staggering $666 MILLION every single week.

So why didn’t the major parties pass a FULL ban.

Follow the money.

All the major parties collect millions in gambling-related donations.

As an Independent, I’m not beholden to major party bosses or big gambling donors.

My priority is the people I represent.

We need to implement all 31 recommendations of the landmark Murphy report - a full, complete ban on online gambling advertising.

We did it with smoking advertising, due to the harm it was causing - the same should have been done with gambling advertising to protect our kids and vulnerable Australians.

It’s time to put people ahead of profits!

Keeping Cash King!

Most Australians believe that if our notes and coins are legal tender, then it must be accepted everywhere.

Amazingly, that’s not the case!

All a business has to do is put up a sign saying they don’t accept cash, and they don’t have to.

There are so many reasons people rely on cash every day:

- Budgeting
- Backup during mobile and Wi-Fi outages
- Privacy
- Avoiding frustrating surcharges

- For emergency situations

Many in our communities are deeply concerned that cash is being phased out.

I recently introduced legislation in Parliament to keep Cash King in Australia.

After I introduced my Keeping Cash Transactions in Australia Bill during the last Parliament, the Government introduced its own cash mandate.

But it falls well short - only applying to major supermarkets and petrol stations for transactions under $500!

This week on Parliament I again introduced legislation for a cash mandate of $10,000 for businesses doing face-to-face transactions.

Unfortunately, when it came to a vote, all the major parties - Labor, Nationals, Liberals and One Nation - failed to support my legislation.

Rest assured, I will not be letting this issue rest.

I will keep up the fight to protect your right to use cash and keep cash king!

I WAS sitting in a plane taxiing out to the runway at T1 in Sydney last week and it struck me, not for the first time, just how much infrastructure we have surrounding air travel.

When the Wright brothers flew the Wright Flyer at Kitty Hawk in 1903, I am certain they could not possibly have envisaged just how much infrastructure we would build around the world to support air travel.

There are 4159 airports with scheduled passenger flights, plus tens of thousands of private, recreational and military airfields. But the number alone doesn’t tell the story. Think about what surrounds every airport with commercial flights.

Runways, taxiways, aprons, terminals, baggage systems, refuelling facilities, control towers, navigation equipment, fire services, maintenance hangars and enough security to ensure you can never accidentally take a pair of nail scissors onto an aircraft.

And when aircraft change, airports have to change with them. When the enormous Airbus A380 was being developed, its sheer size presented airports with a new challenge.

In March 1999, the International Civil Aviation Organisation introduced Code F, a new aerodrome reference category designed to accommodate aircraft of its scale.

For airports wanting to welcome the A380, that meant substantial changes to existing infrastructure.

Now aviation may be approaching another infrastructure moment.

The largest battery-electric aircraft ever flown took to the skies for the first time in the middle of August. The Heart Aerospace X1 demonstrator flew for 27 minutes up to an altitude of 1100 feet.

That flight is important not because you will be booking a seat on an X1 this Christmas.

You won’t. It is a demonstrator designed to prove that electric propulsion can work at the scale of a commercial airliner.

The production aircraft it is helping develop is designed to carry 30 passengers, with a target all-electric range of several hundred kilometres. Forget Sydney to London.

Think major cities to regional centres.

And that may be where electric aviation becomes genuinely interesting for Australia.

Battery-powered aircraft face one enormous problem: batteries are heavy.

Jet fuel contains vastly more usable energy for its weight and, conveniently, an aircraft gets lighter as it burns fuel. A battery weighs the same whether charged or discharged.

Adding more batteries to increase range therefore adds more weight, which requires more energy, which requires more batteries, which requires more... you get the picture.

That means their natural home will be short regional routes.

Australia’s Aviation Green Paper has suggested current battery technology is most suited to routes of roughly 300 to 500 kilometres, with longer one-to-two-hour electric flights potentially becoming possible as battery energy density improves.

But changing the aircraft is only half the story. Just as the A380 forced airports to rethink gates and taxiways, electric aircraft will force airports to rethink energy.

Instead of aviation fuel arriving in tankers, airports may need megawatt-scale electrical connections, battery storage, renewable generation and high-powered aircraft chargers capable of turning planes around quickly through fast charging or possibly even battery-swapping.

Land surrounding an airport could be used to generate solar energy, allowing the power to be used directly where it is generated.

Electric aircraft should also be quieter and mechanically simpler, with electric motors containing far fewer moving parts than turbine engines. That could mean lower maintenance costs and potentially make routes viable that airlines currently consider uneconomic.

The electric aircraft revolution won’t begin with a long-haul international route. It will start quietly, perhaps with 30 people flying a couple of hundred kilometres.

The Wright brothers started with 12 seconds and 37 metres.

Sometimes the biggest revolutions begin with something surprisingly small.

Think twice scams awareness

week

With scammers increasingly using fake websites, fake social media posts and impersonation scams to steal money and personal information, this Scams Awareness Week residents in NSW are being urged to think twice before they click links that may appear genuine.

Running from 24 to 28 August, the theme of this year’s Scams Awareness Week is “no one’s just a number,” which recognises that behind every scam statistic is a real person, family, business or community impacted by financial loss, identity theft or emotional distress.

Scams can affect anyone, and greater awareness about scams across the community is an important step towards tackling this pervasive issue.

To stay vigilant against the threat of a scam you should:

* Stop before sharing money or personal information;
* Check who you are really dealing with using independently sourced contact details; and,

* Protect yourself and others by reporting scams and seeking support if you believe your identity or personal information has been compromised.

For free advice, learning resources and support, visit nsw.gov.au/id-support-nsw or contact ID Support NSW on 1800 001 040.

Essential Energy upgrades

Essential Energy is re-building the high-voltage powerline between the Geurie Energy Hub and the Wellington Sub Station.

The powerline will be re-built largely in the existing corridor and will upgrade the current 132kV line from a single to a dual-circuit construction and will also replace the wooden H-poles and some concrete structures with new steel poles.

Work will cross privately owned land, as well as areas near existing roads and infrastructure, including the Mitchell Highway.

Landowners directly affected by the route are aware of the construction.

$100 MILLION FROM FEDS ON GREAT WESTERN HIGHWAY –

EXTRA LANE A WIN FOR PEOPLE POWER!

While we welcome the news of an extra lane, the business support package announced by the New South Wales government is hopelessly inadequate. We need federal funding for it.

For example, I was recently at a local Hotel at Bowenfels, where business is down by 60%.

What we need is an ongoing business support package like we had with JobKeeper during COVID. Our businesses need this state and federal government support now.

The pressure is not stopping here with this announcement. We also want federal and state funding for a long-term plan for high-speed access to Sydney, so our communities never have to go through this hell again.

I want to thank all of our communities for their tireless advocacy on this issue.

The federal government sent out a media alert for this announcement a couple of hours after I asked the Prime Minister about it in Question Time, and sadly, only state and federal government MPs were invited to attend at Mount Victoria.

Politics, politics – they don't call it the sandstone curtain for nothing.

Rest assured, the campaign for the support our communities need and deserve will not cease.

WATCH MY SPEECH

Make no mistake, the federal government's announcement of $100 million in funding for an extra lane on the convict bridge is a win for people power.

The only reason this funding has been made available is through relentless community pressure and campaigning.

While this is positive news for the communities of the Central West, the job's not done.

Tragically, we still have local businesses closing their doors and going broke because of this ongoing debacle.

Wellington welcomed in parliament

Great to host the Years 5 and 6 students from Wellington Christian School at Parliament House recently!

They certainly didn't hold back, diving straight into some interesting questions:

- Which parties are most likely to form a coalition in the next election?
- Why is the House of Representatives green and the Senate red?
- How many weeks am I in Canberra?
- When do I get time to rest?
- What did I talk about in Parliament during the visit?

A special shout-out to Sylvie, who I met earlier this year after she won the Scarecrow Competition at the Wellington Show. She came packed with some very thoughtful questions for our chat.

We also snapped a photo in front of the historic picture of Australia's very first Parliament – complete with some truly legendary 1901 moustaches!

Thank you to all the students, teachers, and staff for making the trip down from Wellington.

It's always inspiring to see our local students so engaged with their national parliament!

MYTH BUSTING AT ELONG ELONG

I recently visited the Elong Elong Energy Hub, currently under construction, and had the opportunity to chat with local farmer and agronomist Nigel Roberts about what's really happening on the ground.

I'm not against renewable energy but there is an important national conversation that needs to be had about what's happening to our agricultural land as a result of all manner of developments and threats.

As the world's population continues to grow, food and water security are going to become global issues and there isn't a single level of government that's been doing enough on this front.

We're constantly told that you can just graze sheep under solar panels with no worries – well, as Nigel points out, that's not the whole story.

As he highlights, when you do it, the productive capacity of the land drops dramatically.

You just can't run the same number of sheep.

The failure of successive governments to properly regulate the Central West Orana Renewable Energy Zone defies belief.

We may be out of sight out of mind for many city people but what happens out here has a huge impact on the future of Australia.

That's why I introduced my Protecting Australia's Prime Agricultural Land Bill into Parliament.

We need smart, sensible, strategic planning that protects our agricultural land, respects local landholders, and puts country communities first!

Last week we saw soft rain over two days for a reading of 23mm.

THE WORST weeds impeding cereal crops in this district include annual ryegrass, wild oats and sowthistle. These weeds are responsible for about 90% of our yield losses plus there are many other weeds that have an impact on our cereal crops such as barnyard grass, amsinckia, brome grass, caltrop, capeweed, feathertop rhodes, fleabane, fumitory ,heliotrope, oxalis ,paterson’s curse, saf-fron thistle, wild radish, wild turnip and wireweed, all can contribute to loss of yield.

CANOLA.. choose paddocks relatively free of broadleaf weeds especially charlock, wild turnip, wild radish and other weeds of the Brassica family, because in-crop herbicide options are limited. Grass weeds can be managed in canola by using Trifluralin pre sowing.

Recently there has been reports of Clethodim resistance spike in canola rotations. This year most canola crops were dry sown with no pre-seeding knockdown due to the late break and low soil moisture, which meant that many of these crops then emerged later than usual.

The pre-emergent herbicides typically applied at sowing, trifluralin and propyzamide, also rely on moist soil and rainfall for incorporation and availability for uptake to control weeds.

Local land services is reminding landowners across regional NSW to report locust sightings immediately to reduce the risk of damaging infestations this coming spring.

The reset that we had to have

The wool market returned after the three-week mid-year recess, opening sharply lower before settling somewhat on second day. The predicted quantity had dropped from 42,000 bales to almost 38,000, but few if any thought that was enough reduction to stave off what was coming. From the first lot on Tuesday, it was immediately apparent that the market was well below the closing levels prior to the recess, with the EMI falling 51 cents across the three selling centres, making it the largest daily fall since October 2020. Both Merino fleece and pieces suffered up to 100-cent losses, whilst cardings gave back 40-50 cents, and cross-breds 20-25 cents. The reaction from growers was seen in the passed-in rate lifting to almost 20% for the day. Sydney and Melbourne offered on Wednesday in a much steadier tone, after some business had been written overnight, however the EMI still drifted back another 10 cents. Talking to buyers and processors, price resistance from spinners has been the main topic of discussion. The large top makers have been carrying stock that could be 12 months or older, giving them some leverage in their pricing of tops on to spinners. It looks like the ability to average sales with cheaper tops might be over, and a reset like we witnessed last week was going to happen sooner rather than later. This time of year we are generally at the low point, particularly for Merinos. The Northern hemisphere summer is in full swing, resulting in many of those processors on holidays, backing up exporters quiet trading numbers. However, current fundamentals will start to push through again sooner rather than later, with processed stock levels at minimum quantities, wool offerings already dropping under 30,000 bales coming into the next few weeks and not looking like being able to improve much before Christmas. 26,000 bales this week, for the first combined Beecher/Macwool/Carmichael catalogue on Tuesday.

DUBBO CATTLE.. 2400 head. Good numbers in all sections, limited young cattle to suit feeders. Most usual buyers operating and a major export processor. Young trade cattle 15c dearer, vealers and yearlings 440c to 550c/kg. Light feeder steers and heifers 5c dearer, heavier feeders up to 15c/kg cheaper. Feeder steers 420c to 549c, heifers 368c to 528c/kg. Young cattle to restockers 20c to 30c dearer, steers to 598c, heifers to 472c/kg. Grown steers and heifers 7c to 12c dearer, steers 420c to 490c, heifers 430c to 498c/kg. Cows 10c to 15c cheaper, 2 and 3 scores to processors 220c to 385c/kg. Prime heavies 358c to 415c, ave 398c/kg. 4-C muscle cows 432c/kg. Large framed Shorthorn cows to restockers 390c and 398c/kg. Bulls to 452c/kg.

DUBBO SHEEP.. 17,5250 lambs. Numbers eased, quality a little plainer through trade weights, good in heavy and extra heavy categories. Good numbers of heavy and extra heavy lambs, trade weights in short supply and varied in condition. Good lines of Merino lambs, most trade and light export. Market solid on crossbreds but Merinos were stronger with gains of $10 to $15 on well covered lines. Few pens of new season trade $278 to $304, ave 1140c/kg. Old trade 20 to 24kg $210 to $263 on plainer run, 24 to 26kg more consistent in quality $266 to $306, most 1080c to 1140c/kg, best to nearly 1200c/kg. Heavy to 30kg $290 to $328, ave 1140c, extra heavy to $380. Merino trade lambs $215 to $269, heavy to $291, ave 1040c/kg, extra heavy at $350. Best hogget at $335.

MUTTON.. Numbers fell by nearly half, quality good, prices dearer on smaller yarding. Crossbred ewes to $329, heavy Dorpers $348, best Merinos made $285, most 830c to 870c, super heavies 700c to 760c/kg.

WOOL.. Return of sales after the mid-year break saw continuation in pattern of weakening prices that commenced prior to the recess. Several sources in the trade hinted on Monday that they expected prices to be cheaper upon Tuesdays opening. This proved correct however the magnitude of some of the falls was somewhat surprising. So much so that Tuesday’s 51-cent decline in the EMI was its largest daily fall in almost six years. With 37,700 bales on offer it was by no means a large sale considering we were returning from a three-week pause. Individual micron indicators recorded some mixed results on the first day ranging from minus 16 cents to minus 96 cents with 27% of the Northern regions Merino fleece offering passed-in. In contrast the Merino skirting and crossbred market held on well, with a 94% clearance rate. On the final day prices attempted to stabilise with just a 2-cent fall in the NRI led by further weakness in the finer microns. 31,541 bales were sold for the week with a passed-in rate of 16.3%. Major buyers included PJ Morris, Tianyu and Sequoia. AWTA Test data for the first month of the season is showing a 4.1% decline in the number of bales tested nationally. This week’s offering shrinks to just over 26,000 bales.

Racing at Cobar

RENOWNED AS one of the hardest tacklers and toughest men to ever play rugby league in the Sydney competition, Terry Regan shed tears when his daughter Skye Regan rode her career first winner while later at the same meeting the winning double for local trainer Wayne Prisk destroyed the bookmakers on Saturday at Cobar.

Terry Regan built an enviable reputation when playing for Balmain Tigers, Easts Roosters and Canberra Raiders and later as captain coach at Cobar Roosters when playing alongside local legend Tommy Goode formed a combination much feared by opposing teams from the West and Central West.

Skye Regan is very proud of her parents Terry Regan and Kylie Gavenlock the talented and successful Gosford based trainer.

Her horsemanship skills were learned at the Kylie Gavenlock stables and more recently Skye has become a trackwork rider for popular Gilgandra trainer Kieren Hazelton where she has become a well-liked member of the community.

Very tall for a jockey, Skye has worked hard to control her weight and she started out with rides for Kieren Hazelton at recent picnic meetings.

At the Cobar picnic meeting she rode an outstanding race to win the 1000 metres Cobar Cranes & Great Western Hotel-Open Trophy Handicap on the Jane Clement, Mendooran trained Chicken Legs.

Given a nice trail behind the leader, Chicken Legs ($2 favourite) wore down Mr Pointer (Tamsin Gough, $7) to win by a half-length with Our Celebrity (Michael Gray, $14) over two lengths away in third place.

“I told Dad he can’t deny it because I saw him crying after I won the race,” revealed Skye Regan about the rugby league hard man who later admitted it was a huge thrill to be trackside and see his daughter ride her first winner.

Winning trainer Jane Clement won yet another feature race when taking out the 1700m DJW and Wells Veti-lation-Allan Wells Memorial Cobar Picnic Cup with The Great Armada.

Ridden by Amber Collins, The Great Armada ($4) won by over a length from stablemate Proclivity (Skye Regan, $2.50 fav) and Himeros (Eloise Drews, $4.20).

The winning double for Wayne Prisk was well deserved as the Cobar trainer often supplies a truckload of starters for meetings at the more remote meetings in western NSW while he regularly supports jockeys who battle to get rides.

Tamsin Gough who had not ridden a winner since the Geurie Picnics last year made the long trip from the Hunter region and rode the substantially supported outsiders Recovery Road and Mr Invincible very well to land the double for Wayne Prisk.

It seemed half the population of the mining town Cobar was at the races to support their local trainer and Recovery Road (Tamsin Gough, $12) was a bad result for most bookmakers when after racing with the lead toughed it out to win by a half-neck from Broadcast Boogie (Leandro Ribeiro, $2.40 fav) and Point To Prove (Ricky Blewitt, $6) in the 1400m Nutrien Russell Conditional Picnic Handicap.

Armed with plenty of ammunition, punters then supplied an avalanche of support including a bet of $4200 to $300 for the Prisk trained Mr Invincible in the 1400m Totally Workwear Dubbo-Erica Chambers Memorial Open Trophy Handicap.

Taking the lead from Ready For Lift Off in the straight, Mr Invincible (Tamsin Gough, $15 to $11) held on to win by almost a length from Blackhill Kitty (Leandro Ribeiro, $3.80) and Ready For Lift Off (Eloise Drews, $7).

Wayne Prisk revealed at the trophy presentation he was very much hoping he could win the memorial race as Erica Chambes had been the farrier for his horses.

Leading rider Leandro Ribeiro and premiership winning trainer Connie Greig won the opening race, the 1000m Sullivans Mining & Industrial Class 1 & Maiden Plate with Maryland Bridge ($7) which came from midfield to beat the fast finishing The Drafter (Eloise Drews, $7) and Geewiz Johnny (Tamsin Gough, $15).

Michae Gray who works in the mine at Hermidale, was aboard the Greg O’Neill, Nyngan trained Silent Drama ($9) which took the mid race lead and won by over three lengths from Fierce Impulse (Leandro Ribeiro, $5) and Daisy Duck (Amber Collins, $4.80) in the 1200m Cynend Building & Construction Class B Handicap.

Racing at the Gulargambone Cup Saturday and Mud-gee TAB on Sunday followed by Mendooran on Saturday, September 5 and Dubbo TAB on Monday September 7.

Yr 5/6 Canberra Excursion.Our Year 5 & 6 students had an exciting and memorable trip to Canberra, where they explored some of Australia’s most significant landmarks and attractions. Students visited Parliament House, gaining an insight into Australia’s democratic system, and paid their respects at the Australian War Memorial. They also enjoyed an action-packed visit to Corin Forest, explored the exhibits at the museum, and discovered the wonders of science and technology at Questacon. It was a fantastic opportunity for students to learn beyond the classroom, experience new things and create lasting memories with their classmates.

Playing in the Hail

When it hailed unexpectedly, Kindergarten went and gathered a handful. We felt how cold it was and took some back to the classroom in a bowl to examine what would happen to it over time. We delighted in observing how quickly it melted. Isn’t God’s creation amazing?

Wellington teams to take part in Dubbo Football Gala Day

YOUNG FOOTBALLERS from Wellington are preparing to represent their town when they travel to Dubbo this Saturday for the 2026 Gala Day. The Wellington Warriors Football Club will be represented by five junior teams with players from Under 7s through to Under 11s set to take part in a day of football, fun and friendly competition. Gala Day is a highlight on the junior football calendar, giving young players the opportunity to get together, play against teams from across the region and enjoy the exciting atmosphere that comes with a full day of football. For many of the young Warriors, the event is an opportunity to test the skills they have developed throughout the season while representing Wellington and enjoying the game alongside their teammates. The day is about much more than results, with teamwork, sportsmanship and participation set to take centre stage. Families, coaches and volunteers will also play an important role in supporting the young players as Wellington makes the trip to Dubbo. The Wellington Warriors wish all five teams the very best for a fantastic day and look forward to seeing the next generation of local footballers proudly wearing the maroon and gold. Jess Chown

JOE AND KRISTY Mason went down to Riverview (St Ignatius College) Lane Cove, to support their two sons Rupert and Archer as they played in college teams. There was plenty of pride for dad, a Redbacks Rugby Club stalwart, to see the boys graduate from the Redbacks Juniors to GPS sport and experiencing a phenomenal season with Riverview this season.
