Fong Lees Lane Festival success

WELL DONE to everybody involved in a highly successful Fong Lees Lane Festival.

Wellington Arts members put in a lot of work, which was appreciated by the huge numbers that attended.

It was also great to see Wellington Amateur Theatrical Society officially open their refurbished WATS Place, and put on what has been reported to me as being a wonderful dinner show of ‘Mirror Mirror’.

Free desexing and microchipping for Wellington cats

Mid Macquarie Landcare is teaming up with Wellington Veterinary Hospital and RSPCA NSW to replicate their Keeping Cats Safe at Home project in our region.

Keeping your cat indoors protects them from accidents and diseases like H5 bird flu, and also keeps our local wildlife safe from predation.

The deal is for free desexing and microchipping this financial year for Mid Macquarie Landcare members and pension card holders. Past programs resulted in roaming cats drop by up to 51 per cent in participating Council areas. Spots are limited.

Email Deborah at info@mml.org.au or 0457 115 525 to apply.

History week with Wellington Museum

Visit the Wellington Museum, where collections of objects and images of people, places and events in the history of Wellington are shared with community by Wellington Historical Society.

You can visit the Wellington Museum from 10am to 2pm on Friday, Saturday and Sunday each week for a small entry fee of $5 or less.

Please note, due to the historical nature of the building, not all areas of the Museum are fully accessible.

Nominations Open for Sports Awards

Nominations are now open for the 2026 Dubbo Regional Sports Awards, which recognise the outstanding achievements and talents of sportspeople from Dubbo and Wellington.

Nominations are open for three different categories:

* Individual or Team Achievements: such as national or state representation of your association as a player, coach, referee, umpire, or official. This may include NSW Country / NSW State / National Competition success or high-level single performance such as Australian or State record.

* Individual Contribution to Sport: including coaches, referees, umpires and administrators with a minimum of five years of service.

* Community Contribution to Sport: by an organisation, media organisation, or sponsor to a particular sporting event, facility, or continuous support over a minimum of five years.

Nominations: www.dubbo.nsw.gov.au/sport-sawards or by contacting Council’s Recreation and Sporting Team Leader, Tracey Whillock on 6801 4000.

Nominations close on Wednesday 30 September 2026.

Draft Wellington and Dubbo Showground Master Plans

Council recommended the draft Dubbo Showground Masterplan and draft Wellington Showground Masterplan be placed on public exhibition, with the exhibition noting projects identified in the Masterplans remain subject to future Council considerations, funding availability and budget processes.

A report will be presented back to Council following the public exhibition period, detailing submissions and recommendations for any amendments.

Draft 2026-2030 Disability Inclusion Action Plan

Council recommends endorsing the draft 2026-2030 Disability Inclusion Action Plan for public exhibition with a further report to be brought back to Council following the public exhibition period.

***
Update to Proposed lease of Wellington Showground

Council endorses the proposed lease arrangement of Wellington Showground to Wellington Race Club for a term of three years, with an option for a further two years, to be placed on public exhibition.

A report will be returned to council with consideration of any submissions received for final determination. Josh Black

Letter to Editor

Sir,
FOR OUR future growth and prosperity Australia needs to develop a more “complex” industrial base away from commodities.

It was recently reported that we rate 74th out of 140 countries analysed for “Industrial Complexity” and our huge reliance on Export Commodities compared to Australian Made is the reason.

The 35 years of continuous growth from exports of Iron Ore, Coal, Gas and most Agricultural Commodities, whilst our Secondary and Tertiary processing and Manufacturing has diminished, raises questions about continuing growth and prosperity.

Increasing Iron Ore competition from huge resources in West Africa, and proposed substantially increased Coal Extraction in India to fulfil their needs, create a particular awakening to the need for Australia to process and manufacture, to make our “Industrial Base” more complex.

As an “advanced” primary producer of Agricultural and Horticultural products and Fibre there are surely immediate opportunities using new labour saving technologies for viable and profitable secondary and tertiary processing in these areas.

In this respect it is interesting and informative to recall the development of our wool industry which “made us wealthy off the sheep’s back”.

From sheep originating in Spain in the 12th century and the gift of a small flock from the King of Spain to his cousin in Saxony the breed grew to over a million by 1802 in Saxony (now part of Germany).

As the world leader in textile manufacture, Britain was able to procure some of these “remarkable animals” via Portugal but as commonly believed these did not become the source of Australia’s Merinos.

Australia’s first Merinos were from a Mrs Gordon the widow of a British Governor in Capetown, South Africa, and were direct descendants of the original Saxony Flock, and were purchased and brought to Australia by the captains of the ships “Supply” and “Reliance” and the so called “fathers of the Australian Wool Industry” Reverend Samual Marsden and John Macarthur (and his much-involved wife Elizabeth) were purchasers.

When John Macarthur was sent back to England to be Court Martialled for fighting a Duel, undeterred he spoke about Australian Wool quality in London, and within 20 years he predicted that he would have enough sheep to supply most of the UK’s fine wool requirements and he produced wool samples.

As his “Aussie luck” continued to hold up he purchased rams from the King’s Flock and the Court Martial was dispensed and he sailed home richer.

Although much of the sheep industry was based on meat, the finer wool journey evolved rapidly, due to the skills of Australian breeders, but Spain continued to set the standard, even when Macarthur’s first bale of Australian fine wool was purchased for a record price of 10 shillings and 4 pence a pound by a London buyer.

Gradually however the domination of Saxony wool was taken over by Australian Wool, and quality improvement accelerated, with sheep classing and Wool Scouring eventually replacing Sheep Washing by Sheep and Wool Classer, George Sugden and his family.

With the arrival in Port Phillip Bay in 1850 of George Peppin and sons George and Frederick, the most significant chapter in the story of Australian Wool was initiated when they purchased “South Wanganella” and after unsuccessfully trying to resell it they employed Thomas Shaw an outspoken critic of Australian Woolsheep breeding to improve their sheep to survive on the dry “Old Man Plain” north of Deniliquin.

This resulted in the renowned “Peppin Merino” on which the most successful era of Australian fine to medium wool production has its foundation and today sets the world standard.

On the adjoining property “Boonoke” originally purchased by the Peppins, and later by F.S.Falkiner (who came out from Ireland to mine gold in 1853), where he bred the first Poll Merino flock in Australia, challenged the Shearer’s Strike, and bred “wrinkles” out of sheep to benefit shearing and minimise fly strike.

The Falkiner empire grew exponentially and eventually Bert Falkiner went out on his own and established the renowned property “Haddin Rig” west of Dubbo.

Many world-renowned Pastoral properties continue today surviving and growing “off the sheep’s back”.

This is a wonderful “Australian Story” where an opportunity was seen, and from humble beginnings, hard work, persistence, and an undeterred focus on the goal, a world leading Nation Building Profitable outcome was realised and shared.

Already in our own backyard right now we have two great family owned and success driven examples of what can be achieved using the same approach with Fletchers Meat and Grain Exports and the Manildra Group (and perhaps others).

Woman arrested at correctional centre

A WOMAN has been charged after allegedly attempting to take prohibited drugs into a correctional centre in Wellington on the weekend.

Officers attached to Orana Mid Western Police District were called to a correctional centre about 9.30am on Saturday, September 12, following reports a person had attempted to bring prohibited drugs into the facility.

Police were told a 36-year-old woman had allegedly attempted to bring in methamphetamine and bupernorphine on her way in to visit a person, when a drug detection dog gave a positive indication.

During a search of the woman’s vehicle, police seized two mobile phones.

The woman was arrested and taken to Dubbo Police Station where she was charged with seven offences:

* Bring etc prohibited drug/plant into place of detention (two counts); Possess prohibited drug (two counts); Supply prohibited drug less than or equal to small quantity; Supply prohibited drug greater than small and less than or equal to indictable quantity; and Drive motor vehicle during disqualification period.

She was refused bail and appeared before Bail Court, where she was formally refused bail to reappear before Wellington Local Court on Tuesday, September 22.

Stuart Town ‘welcome’

AN INNOVATIVE “Welcome to Stuart Town Community Meet and Greet” held over the weekend was a great success for Stuart Town Advancement Association.

More than 100 locals attended the gathering, giving new and long-time residents the opportunity to meet representatives from local community groups, have a chat and discover the organisations, services and activities available in Stuart Town.

Info signs get a facelift

Thanks to local volunteers Craig Gurney, Ray Pulbrook and Richard Eade there are some new revamped information signs at Stuart Town’s entrance.

Wellington REACT project manager announced

COUNCIL HAS has awarded the project management services for the Renewable Energy Awareness Career Training (REACT) Centre to local Dubbo business Lyons Project Management, following a competitive tender process.

EnergyCo Executive Director, Community and Land Outcomes Ash Albury, said the REACT Centre would play a key role in supporting access to jobs and training in the renewable energy sector across Central-West Orana.

The centre will support locals who want to build careers in renewable energy, giving them access to targeted training and a pathway into an industry that’s already creating real jobs in the region.

The REACT Centre project received an $11.24 million EnergyCo Community and Employment Benefit Program grant for legacy, Council-led projects.

The grant is part of the NSW Government’s initial $128 million investment to share benefits with communities during the delivery of the Central-West Orana Renewable Energy Zone.

Industry partners Squadron Energy, ACERZ, Lightsource bp and Tilt Renewables were key funding partners for the business case provided to EnergyCo’s REZ Legacy Infrastructure Fund.

Record crowd packs out Fong Lees Lane

THREE THOUSAND people stepped through Fong Lee Lane between 4pm and 9pm last Friday evening to be part of the record-breaking crowd attending the Wellington Arts' iconic Festival.

The atmosphere was full of excitement as Chinese Dragons roamed through the crowd and musical entertainment in the background from the incredible Hillbilly Goats.

Not only the lane, but backyards of adjoining properties were full of people roaming through the area sampling the enormous array of multicultural food and possibly tasting a cocktail or two from Black Cats behind the Four Cats building (the former Sacred Hearts Convent playground).

Allendale Merinos’ 76 year history is being handed on

BY MARK GRIGGS

THIS WILL be the last ram sale for Tony and Penny Inder.

They made the decision after Tony suffered a stroke in October last year.

Since then he has scaled down his workload, but is fortunate that two of his nephews will be taking over the Allendale Merino stud and also lease the Inder’s Goolma property, “Iona”.

In the negotiations Hayden and Seton Croake now own the Allendale stud of 500 ewes and its commercial flock of 1500.

Their father, Ivan was Tony’s first cousin and conducted Gilgunyah stud until his untimely death in a car accident when Hayden was 14 and Seton was 12.

“The farm and stud was sold and Penny and I sort of took them on and they did a bit of work on our farm during school holidays, Tony Inder said.

“As time progressed the boys have become part of our family and have helped me in the stud and on the farm each and every year.

“They used to help Ivan with his sheep, so they just picked up and continued here.

“Actually, they knew more about sheep than I did at their age.”

Allendale stud was established by Eric Woods at Peak Hill in 1949 with Pooginook blood and possibly the last five or so years before the sale Eric moved to Haddon Rig

Landcare helping keep cats safe at home

MID MACQUARIE Landcare will be working with RSPCA NSW to replicate their ‘Keeping Cats Safe at Home’ project within the Dubbo LGA.

The project will provide free desexing and microchipping of cats this financial year, and aims to reduce the impact pet cats have on wildlife and improve domestic cats health and safety by encouraging responsible cat ownership, particularly by keeping cats safe in their homes.

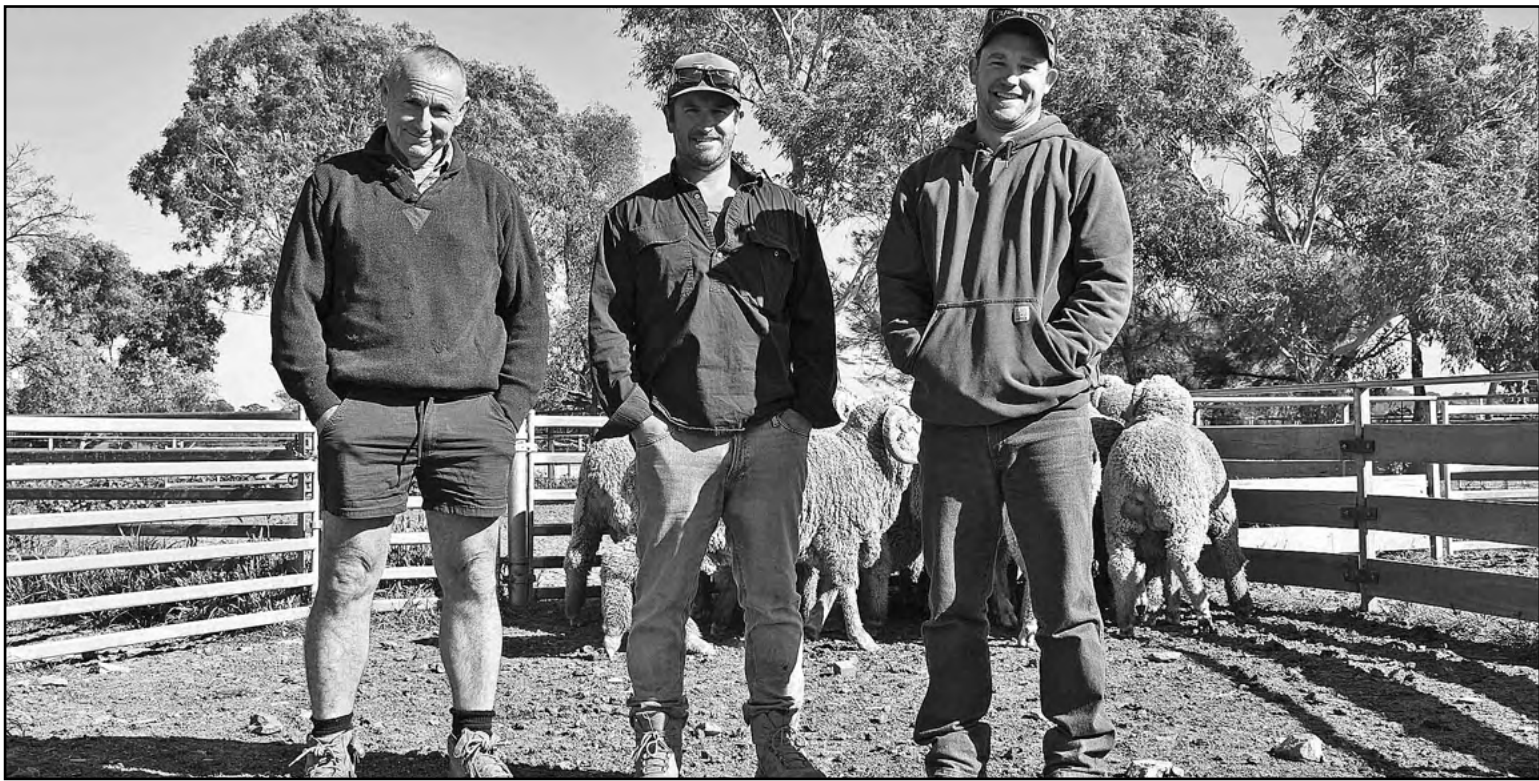

“Roaming cats are at risk of contracting diseases and being hurt or dying in an accident, according to Local Landcare Coordinator, Deborah Cooke.

“This is particularly pertinent with the H5 bird flu risk that is expected to expand significantly across NSW in the next few months.”

Regional Landcare Coordinator, Danielle Littlewood said the RSPCA NSW Keeping Cats Safe at Home program began in 2021 and has been run across 30 NSW Council areas to date.

“Landcare could see great potential in this program, but unfortunately only one Central West Council is currently participating, so we are hoping to help expand the program this year into regional NSW where we know there is a huge need for it.”

Wellington Vet Practice Manager Tamara Virtue said as the weather warms and breeding activity increases, it’s an ideal time for pet owners to consider desexing and

Tony and Penny Inder purchased the flock in 2000 and went back to Pooginook for nearly 20 years, but moved to Wanganella blood in the past five years.

Allendale has always bred horned rams and Tony says he has no desire or passion to breed poll sheep.

The boys are happy to breed polls and they have Tony’s blessing to do whatever they want with the Allendale flock.

Tony has placed himself into an advisory capacity.

“They’ve asked me to class, but I am encouraging them to class and I will be close if they need assistance or opinion.

“This year’s Allendale sale draft has been run by the boys and we’ll split the sale proceeds at changeover time, Tony said.

“Hayden was a shearer and shore for us for many years, but now is a contract fencer.

“Both boys always worked for me in their spare time, and I’d do work for them, sow and harvest their crops, but we never charged each other.”

Wellington Red Cross - Looking back 112 years

Time to close local branch

IT IS with great sadness that we, the Wellington Branch of Australia Red Cross, has had to close our local branch.

Unfortunately, we had no choice but to discontinue this wonderful group of dedicated members due to age and the lack of younger ones being unable to come on board.

We have been finding it increasingly difficult to fulfill our obligations and workload.

Having been established since 1914 we have a long and proud history of local commitment and both National and International support of many and varied causes.

Some of the more memorable ones, in my time, being the Australian floods and fires, the cyclones affecting the Pacific Islands and just helping finance and man local programmes such as the School Breakfasts, Telecross and creating Trauma Teddies.

And, of course, not to forget the reason Red Cross was established, the support and contribution to our soldiers, especially those who were prisoners in the concentration and work camps of the two World Wars.

After reading our minutes from those years I was completely 'blown away' by the commitment of the Wellington Community, their generosity and willingness to help, and do, whatever and wherever was needed.

The Wellington Branch had over 90 members during those War Years plus widespread community help.

I would like to sincerely thank the Wellington Community for all your support and generosity to our Branch, without this we would not have been able to achieve all that we have over the years.

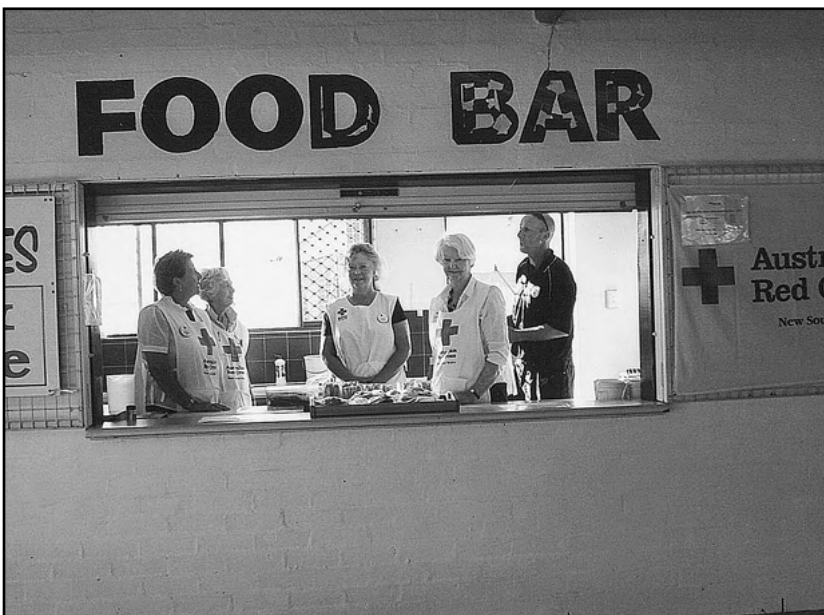

I hope you can find the time to read a little of our history that Mark has so kindly agreed to edit and publish for us.

I'm sure there will be many names here you will know and events you will remember.

Yours Faithfully

Sue Bullock

President

Red Cross History 1940 – 1953

Wellington Branch

1940 - 41 President. Miss U Barton, Secretary. Mrs K Porter, Treasurer ?. Meetings held at Church of England Parish Hall.

198 Members raised £1212/47

Sub Branches:

Bodangora, 38, Spicers Creek, 31, Goolma.

Special Mention Harry Ling, Mayor Dr v Savage, Mr N Pitt, Mr Lang, Mr J Stephans

Some Events... card parties, street stalls, art union tickets, horse race meeting at Genobbie, children's concert, afternoon teas, Christmas party at Glenwood and cake stalls.

1941 - 42 President. Miss U Barton, Secretary.

Mrs J Fulton/Mrs Porter, Treasurer. Mrs K Norman.

Wellington Public Kiosk opened in September 1941

Members raised £1093/16/2 for the Prisoners of War

Comfort Parcels sent to Prisoners of War contained:- 16ozs milk powder, butter, jam and biscuits, 8ozs salmon, dried apples, prunes, sugar, chocolate, 12ozs corned beef, 10ozs pork luncheon meat, 4ozs cheese, sardines or kippers, tea, salt, pepper, soap, 7 vitamin tablets, clothing and medical supplies.

These cost R.C. Society £5000.00. Each parcel cost £1

1942 - 43 President. Miss U Barton, Secretary. Mrs G Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs R Davidson.

It was decided that the makers of jam to be sold at stalls put their names on the bottles so they could be returned to be used again. There was a chronic shortage of jam jars at the time...all part of the war effort.

1943 - 44 President. Miss U Barton, Secretary. Mrs Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs Norman/Mrs Davidson.

Some of the members and Branches 'adopted' a Prisoner of War. This entailed financial support for them which was sent to Headquarters. It was decided the Branch join the POW Street Adoption Plan. My understanding is members chose streets to canvas for money for the POWs.

They also ran a Baby Competition which Baby Marie Evans (Hoffman) won. Amount raised was £525/9/3.

Total amount for the year was £3364/8/5

1944 – 45 President. Miss U Barton, Secretary. Mrs G Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs R Davidson. Amount raised for the year was £2432 from four street stalls, opportunity shop, donations, fees, cards, calendars and street collections. 1235 sewn and knitted articles were sent to Headquarters.

1945 – 46 President. Mrs F Smith, Secretary. Mrs G Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs R Davidson. 219 sewn articles sent to Headquarters Three Street Stalls Christmas Card Sales

1947 – 48 President. Mrs F Smith, Secretary. Miss Stockwell, Treasurer. Mrs M Cameron. The President was very disappointed in falling attendance due to lack of need after the war.

A Social Secretary and a Committee was formed to organise Tennis and Card and Bridge Parties.

There was only one afternoon tea lady for the whole year. This seemed to be standard for every year.

£483/5/4 was raised for the year.

£113/14/- was sent to Food For Britain Fund.

Goolma Sub Branch disbanded this year, due, in part, to petrol rationing.

1948 – 49 President. Mrs E Trimble, Secretary. Miss G Stockwell, Treasurer. Mrs D Mander Jones.

Lowest local membership since 1939.

£687/14/8 was raised for the year.

1949 – 50 President. Mrs R Davidson, Secretary. Mrs G Stockwell/Mrs G Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs Keirle.

Membership was 59 and they raised £212/11/6 for the Kempsey, Maitland and Grafton Floods, as well as sending 18 clothes cartons for the victims. Goolma only Sub Branch left 1950 – 51 President. Mrs R Davidson, Secretary. Mrs G Fuller, Treasurer. Mrs D Mander Jones.

1952 – 53 President. Mrs D Barton, Secretary. Mrs K Bleechmore, Treasurer. Mrs D Mander Jones.

Membership was 187, and they raised £567/0/8.

They ran two stalls, one of which displayed and sold handcrafts made by disabled veterans. Also held a Tennis Party and sold Christmas Cards and calendars.

Red Cross calls for assistance

Soldier's Bag drive gains strong support.

Wellington Times – Monday, August 24, 1914

From the article:

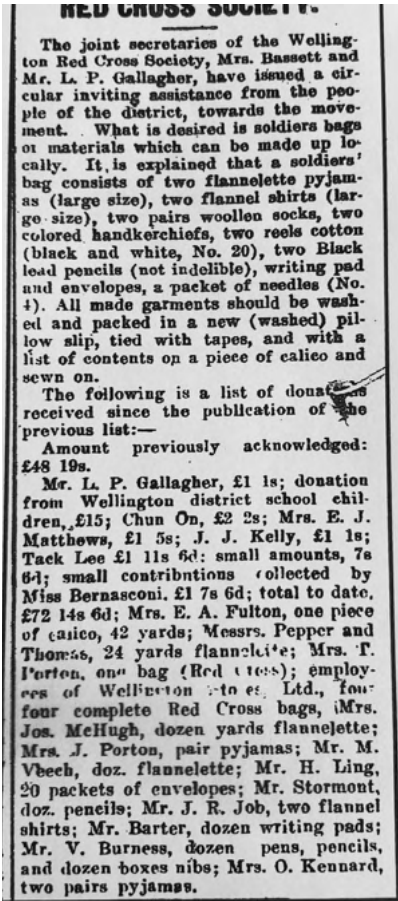

"The joint secretaries of the Wellington Red Cross Society, Mrs Bassett and Mr L.P. Gallagher, have issued as circular inviting assistance from the people of the district, towards the movement.

What is desired is soldiers bags or materials which can be made up locally.

It is explained that a soldier's bag consists of two flannelette pyjamas (large size); two flannel shirts (large size); two pairs woollen socks, two coloured handkerchiefs, two reels cotton (black and white, No.20); two black lead pencils (not indelible); writing pad and envelopes; a packet of needles (No. 4).

All garments should be washed and packed in a new (washed) pillow slip, tied with tapes, and with a list of contents on a piece of calico and sewn on.

Donations of money and articles to that amounted to 48 pounds and 19 shillings ($97.90).

Pumpkin Soup time.

Maple Roasted Pumpkin and Chicken Salad

800g butternut pumpkin, peeled and cut into chip pieces
2 tablespoons maple syrup
1 tablespoon olive oil
½ cup walnut pieces
olive oil cooking spray
600g chicken breast fillets
100g spinach and rocket salad mix
1 red onion, thinly sliced
Mustard Dressing
2 tablespoons olive oil

2 tablespoons apple cider vinegar
2 teaspoons maple syrup
1 teaspoon wholegrain mustard
Preheat oven to 220C/200C fan-forced. Line baking tray with baking paper. Place pumpkin, syrup and oil in a bowl and toss to combine. Place pumpkin in single layer on prepared tray and season with salt and pepper. Bake for 20 to 30 minutes, adding walnuts to tray for last eight minutes of cooking or until pumpkin is tender. Spray a frying pan with oil and heat over medium to high heat. Cook chicken for six to seven minutes each side or until cooked through. Transfer to plate, stand covered for five minutes, then thinly slice. Meanwhile, make mustard dressing, placing all ingredients in a screw-top jar and shake to combine. Place pumpkin, walnuts, chicken, salad mix, onion and dressing in a bowl and toss to combine. Variation: replace walnuts with pinenuts.

Wellington's crazy for pumpkin

THE Red Cross pumpkin soup tasted so good, just about everybody at Wellington was asking for the recipe.

It was a winter favourite entrée when catering at local functions and, finally, Red Cross Wellington's members could see a fundraiser in the making by selling the recipe, then realised just one wasn't enough.

"So we sent out an SOS to our members, who generously gave out their favourite trade secrets and Pumpkin Recipes is the result," said the immediate past-president of Red Cross Wellington, Margaret Macarthur.

The 76-page labour of love and good appetite was officially launched by Wellington's own poet laureate and tall-tale spinner, Col Poyner, at the Cactus Café.

The Red Cross ladies were helped in the book's production by Peter Dargin of Development and Advisory Publications, Dubbo, and artwork provided by Eve Kiss and John Julius.

There are 106 recipes in nine categories from soups and starters, through to main courses, desserts and cakes, scones and biscuits.

"We also owe thanks to Betty Watcham, who miraculously produced Flo Bjelke-Petersen's hand-written pumpkin scone recipe," Margaret Macarthur said.

■ Pumpkin Recipes can be obtained from the Australian Red Cross, Wellington NSW branch, PO Box 448, Wellington, 2820, for $20 a copy plus $2.90 for postage. Phone inquiries should be made to Margaret Macarthur, (02) 6845 1636.

Win Win

DON'T forget to send in your entries for this year's Festive Fare cooking competition for a chance to win one of five copies of Donna Hay's new book, Seasons, for the five best recipes received, and an extra Donna Hay merchandise pack for the one Oxley – our chief judge – likes the best out of those five.

To enter, send us the pick of your festive recipes suitable for the holiday period – it could be something sweet or savoury, a breakfast or dinner dish, a starter or a dish to nibble with drinks; it just needs to be a celebratory favourite.

Send your recipes to: The Land's Festive Fare Cookery Competition, PO Box 999, North Richmond, NSW, 2754, or email them to: chiefstaff.theland@ruralpress.com

The winners will be announced in the new year.

THE 2009 Christmas Festive Season had people from throughout the state sending their favourite festive recipes to The Land newspaper.

Wellington's Mark Griggs got wind of the local Red Cross ladies' pumpkin soup, which tasted so good, just about everybody at Wellington was asking for the recipe.

Guests take a walk down memory lane

JUST shy of 60 people took a walk down memory lane on Friday as they attended the Wellington Branch Red Cross bicentennial event.

The "Remember when..." luncheon was held at the Wellington Golf Club where guests were treated to old well as sharing items from their childhood.

A theme of 'dress as your parents would have' saw guests arrive in attire of the past, popular choices being pearls, fur coats and hats, stockings and even a flappers outfit from the roaring '20s.

Red Cross president, Bev Hutchinson, said it was a feel-good event that everyone rallied around.

Red Cross Life Member and Wellington Branch patron, Helen Norris, was intrigued by the items on display. She too provided a items and books.

"In the sewing box we had a darning wooden mushroom block, fine wool and silk thread to mend the lyle or silk stockings," she said.

The luncheon was held in conjunction with the town's bicentennial celebrations.

YET ANOTHER dry week coming up with tops of 20 to 28 degrees and lows of 1 to 8.

***

Spring has arrived with a lovely change in the weather which I hope you are all enjoying. Grain growing regions across WA, SA, Vic and most of NSW are looking fantastic and more favourable spring weather should bring the crops to a successful finish.

There have been some short rallies in wheat and canola prices in the past few weeks but less so for barley and pulses. Have the wheat prices rallied enough though?

According to US price data, global wheat prices have risen 15% year on year as of late August. However, if you consider the US has its lowest wheat crop production since 1972, the extreme hot weather across Europe and the continuity of global disruptions in the Middle East and Ukraine, perhaps there is still more lift to come for wheat prices.

Of course a rising AUD /USD does also limit the potential gain for Australian farmers.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

WOOL.. The market experienced a very variable week, early gains giving way to broader losses with 23,486 bales offered and 21,167 sold. The EMI finished 12c lower at 1878c/kg clean. Currency was influential with the Australian dollar strengthening to 72.32US cents, consequently despite the fall in Australian dollar terms, the EMI increased 8US cents to 1358usc/kg. The 15mic to 20mic wools were most affected with Merino carding falling some 47c. Traders again led buying activity, followed by processors, while the proportion of wool passed in or withdrawn increased markedly.

CATTLE.. CTLX 8th. 1321 head. Numbers lifted slightly, quality improved with more weight in the cattle. Weaner steers reached 543c, heifers 5230c/kg for medium weights. Feeder steers back 10 to 15c, 510c to 581c/kg, heifers firm 480c to 540c/kg. Heavy trade 490c to 521c, firm to 10c softer, heavier end holding firm. Grown steers and bullocks lifted 20c, 485c to 510c, heifers lifted 10c to 15c, 456c to 485c/kg. Heavy cows 4 to 5c weaker, 387c to 433c/kg, leaner 2-score cows slightly stronger 376c and 392c/kg. Best heavy bulls to 436c/kg

SHEEP.. CTLX 9th. 1610 sheep, 2305 lambs. Quality mixed. Trade new season lambs $10 to $12 easier $266 to $290. Heavy trade lambs cheaper by same level $262 to $268. Heavy new seasons cheaper by $10, $295 to $315. Extra heavy $305 to $342.

MUTTON.. Numbers fell, quality mixed, some good heavy first-cross ewes. Prices dearer by $5 to $10, heavy first-cross ewes $237 to $360.

Strong dollar shows its influence

IN WHAT can only be described as a selling week of two halves, the Australian wool market softened in Australian terms but rose in US dollars. Tuesday opened with all three selling centres operating, and from the first lot demand was strong for fleece finer than 1-micron, lifting up to 37 cents in the Eastern markets and 49 cents in the West, which was catching up from the rises in the final day of previous week's sales that they didn't participate in. Price support on the second day weakened, predominantly Merino fleece 18 micron and broader, giving back as much as 40 cents. Skirtings mirrored the fleece movements, rising 50 cents on the first day and losing 20 cents on the second. Cardings battled from the outset, falling up to 47 cents nationally, and crossbreds however rode the week out in a positive fashion, better by up to 10 cents. Buyers are telling us that the volatile market nature we are seeing could be more prevalent into the future, with spinners finding it difficult to pass these new prices on to their customers, leaving top makers and exporters to juggle the price fluctuations. These small quantities are no guarantee of market direction week to week, but the tightening supply in followed regularly in industry commentary, which is telling us that offerings to date are 9% less than the same time last year. With the European processors getting back to normal stock levels, and Chinese top makers having very little wool in front of their machines, you would have to think at some point that spinners will have no choice but to lift their sights on what tops will cost. On Wednesday evening just gone, the second Merino Project was delivered in Wellington to 80 wool grower and industry guests. The speakers represented the wool industry from one end to the other, from on farm to the end consumer. Self-replacing sheep enterprises currently have the most profitable gross margin on farm at present, with gains being made by keeping cost of production in check. Fast fashion is being highlighted in the micro plastics discussion, with natural fibres now firmly being recognised as environmentally sustainable and biodegradable by consumers and influencers particularly. The investment in wool specific processing machinery that has occurred not only in China but worldwide runs into the billions of dollars, tells us all of the long-term outlook that many have for wool, hoping that production will exceed the intentions of growers at the present. This week a little over 30,000 bales with BWS, Macwool and Carmichael cataloguing almost 1000 bales.

MUTTON.. 5030 head. Very good quality, most grades were $10 to $15 cheaper. Merino ewes $162 to $300, crossbred ewes $213 to $349. Exotic ewes to $348, Merino wethers to $310.

WOOL.. Another good week for wool with prices strengthening over both selling days. The falls seen upon resumption of sales after recess have all been eradicated and further gains have been made. Tuesday's opening in Northern region picked up from previous week's strong results with momentum building as the day progressed resulting in a 29-cent gain in the NRI. Wednesday's market continued along same trend with the indicator gaining a further 14 cents. Individual Merino micron indicators all gained between 29 to 80 cents for the week with the finer and lower vegetable matter types in strong demand. 22,528 bales sold for the week, 4.4% passed-in. Major buyers Techwool, Endeavour Wool & PJ Morris, widespread support amongst the trade. A similar sized national offering is expected this week, early estimates to around 30,000 bales next week. AWTA Test data for the first two months of the 2026/27 season shows a 4.3% decrease in weight of wool tested nationally. The August update from the Australian Wool Production Forecasting Committee was for an expected 1.8% decline in production for the 2026/27 season.

Racing at Geurie

AT THE picturesque Geurie racecourse and in front of a very good crowd on Saturday, Avoid Me became one of four winners at the meeting for Dubbo trainer Connie Greig when taking out the 1600 metres Mitchell Inn-Friends And Family Of Bernie Wilkin-Geurie Picnic Cup.

Part of a winning treble for Brazilian born jockey Leandro Ribeiro, Avoid Me ($4.40) took the lead from Ocean Hero turning for home then broke clear to win by over three lengths from Akauwheo (Zara Lewis, $5.50) and Casterly Rock (Tamsin Gough, $4.60).

Connie Greig and Leandro Ribeiro opened the batting with Rita Red ($4.80) which led from before the home turn to beat Mega Pixel (Skye Regan, $1.80 favourite) and Ready For Lift Off (Ricky Blewitt, $3.20) in the 1000m All Aspects Concrete Class 3 Trophy Handicap.

Noble One (Leandro Ribeiro, $2.40) which had been racing on the provincial circuit was first up for the Connie Greig stable when leading all the way to win the 1400m Elders Dubbo-Open Conditional Handicap from stablemate Midnight In Midori (Amber Collins, $1.60 fav) and Lockadente (Zara Lewis, $10).

Connie Greig supplied both runners for the 1600m Shanahans Transport/Carter Lindsay McHugh Class B Handicap with Hot Miss (Amber Collins, $1.60) edging ahead over the closing stages to beat Fierce Impulse (Leandro Ribeiro, $1.50 fav) by a long neck.

While preparing Gallant Star for the $2,000,000 Kosciusko at Royal Randwick on October 17, Dubbo trainer Brett Robb took time out to travel to Geurie on Saturday to win the 1000m Fardells Heavy Haulage & Crane Hire Maiden Plate with Cool Nanczye.

Leading throughout, the grey mare Cool Nanczye (Ricky Blewitt, $2.20) won by over four lengths from Pala D'Oro (Leandro Ribeiro, $1.70 fav) and Voskamp (Tamsin Gough, $10).

A last start winner at Gulargambone, the Kylie Kennedy, Narromine trained Calmundi (Tamsin Gough, $4) swept down the outside from back in the field to beat Daisy Duck (Leandro Ribeiro, $3.60) and Box Of Crackers (Amber Collins, $2.20 fav) in the 1000m Trax Livestock/Think Water Outwest Class 3 Trophy Handicap.

Tourism small businesses face Christmas wipe out amid backpacker visa delays

WITH 100 days to go until Christmas Day, Australia’s tourism sector is bracing for what it fears could be its toughest festive season yet.

Leader of The Nationals Matt Canavan and Shadow Minister for Tourism David Littleproud have met with the Australian Tourism Industry Council (ATIC), as it warns $3 billion in revenue and 20,000 jobs are at risk, ahead of what is normally a busy holiday period.

Senator Canavan said the tourism industry was extremely concerned about Labor’s pause on applications coming from 24 of 29 countries in the work and holiday visas (subclass 462) while holiday visas (subclass 417) are also being processed more slowly.

“Labor’s go-slow approach on backpacker visa applications is costing the tourism industry and creating a lot of panic among small businesses, while putting thousands of jobs at risk,” Senator Canavan said.

“We do need to bring migration numbers down, but we have three million people in Australia on temporary visas, or an extra million on temporary visas than before COVID. Of that extra million, just 65,000 are on working holiday maker visas – or 6.5 per cent.

“It isn’t good enough that Labor’s attempt to curb migration through its out-of-control temporary visa program is stopping small businesses from getting the workers they need.

“Our backpacker visas are crucial to businesses in regional Australia. They are also not the source of the migration problem that Australia is experiencing and so shouldn’t be targeted for it.”

ATIC CEO Erin McLeod said the government needs to provide clarity on changes to the working holiday make program.

“Backpackers are tourists not migrants, they are big spenders in our communities and help fill critical, seasonal labour shortages,” Ms McLeod said.

“They are often the backbone of local regional economies. Recent polling shows two-thirds of Australians do not personally consider backpackers or tourists on temporary visas to be migrants, while 80 per cent consider Working Holiday Makers an important source of workers for Australian businesses.

“We are also concerned that ‘normal tourist visas’ are next – which is why the tourism industry needs clarity.

“Longer-stay tourists are not permanent migrants. They are temporary visitors who travel widely across Australia, spending in our communities before returning home.

“Regional communities stand to lose twice: first through the loss of valuable tourist dollars, and again through the loss of an important seasonal backpacker workforce.

“The broader impact on regional economies would be significantly greater than these figures show.”

Seafood Industry Australia CEO Dr John Ackerman said employers need to know what has changed, what is being considered and how government will consult.

“Skilled migration and worker holiday makers support all aspects of our food and seafood production, along with value chains that support Australia’s prosperity and growth - including tourism, hospitality, and retail,” Dr Ackerman said.

“We need to restore an ability to prioritise regions, food production, and ensure there’s timely processing of worker holiday visas.

Design Santa’s new sleigh

PICTURE THIS... Santa needs a new sleigh and it’s up to the children of the Dubbo electorate to design a new one!

Primary school students across the region are invited to get creative and submit their unique vision of Santa’s ultimate new sleigh.

The winning entry will feature on my Christmas card, which will be delivered to thousands of households across the electorate in December.

All entries must be A4 in size with no cotton, glitter or anything stuck to the page, must not be folded, and the artist’s name, age and school should be clearly marked on the back of each entry.

Entries are open to all primary school students who reside in the Dubbo electorate, which includes the Narromine Shire, Dubbo, Wellington, Gulgong and Mudgee regions, and can be dropped into my electorate office at 1/18 Talbragar Street, Dubbo or posted to: Dugald Saunders MP, PO Box 1327, DUBBO NSW 2830.

Submissions must be in by 5pm, Friday, October 30.

Dusty’s done it

An absolutely MASSIVE congratulations to 12-year-old Dusty Langby, who has not only successfully walked from Warren to Parliament House in Canberra to raise money and awareness for children’s charity Little Wings but has also secured a dollar-for-dollar match from Prime Minister Albanese!

I’m a massive supporter of Little Wings and its mission to support kids out west, so it’s been fantastic to see Australia back Dusty’s journey.

Well done mate, rest up and safe travels back to Warren!

RFS State Championships

It was fantastic to attend the 2026 RFS State Championships at the Dubbo Showground over the weekend.

Teams from across the state came together to compete in a range of ‘Dub Vegas’ themed firefighting scenarios covering skills such as pumping and hose work, tree felling and first aid. From the highly classified Area 51 and the Dub Vegas Mini Golf Open, to the more challenging events (which even included a nuclear reactor meltdown simulation), there was plenty of fun and skills development to be had. The competition was also hot in the kitchen, with teams in the catering tent putting their culinary skills to the test to see who was best at feeding the crowd and be crowned RFS MasterChef.

Our Orana Cadets took out podium finishes in three events, but it was ultimately St Paul’s Cadets who took out the Junior Champion trophy, while Oakville took out the Senior Competition win.

Congratulations to everyone who competed, marshalled and volunteered over the weekend, and to the RFS Orana Team for hosting this stellar event!

Don’t forget, RFS units around the state will be holding events this month to help you prepare for bush fire season.

To find an event near you, visit: rfs.nsw.gov.au/news-and-media/get-ready-weekend-2026

Adult Crime, Adult Time

Labor has lost control of crime across NSW with young people increasingly at the centre and regional NSW has had enough.

The NSW Nationals in Government will introduce ‘Adult Crime, Adult Time’ laws within the first 100 days of our term.

Under our reforms the list of serious children’s indictable offences would be expanded, we will double funding for the Community Safety Investment Fund and invest in programs that work to prevent young people from committing crimes in the first place.

These steps will give police the tools to do their job and keep the community safe.

Senate inquiry to scrutinise chemical regulator’s decision on weedkiller paraquat

From ABC Rural – By Kallee Buchanan and Kate Forrester

THE CHEMICAL regulator’s decision to allow the continued use of controversial weed killer paraquat will be scrutinised by a Senate committee inquiry.

Independent senator David Pocock successfully referred the Australian Pesticides and Veterinary Medicines Authority (APVMA) decision to the Rural and Regional Affairs and Transport References Committee, with support from the Greens and the Coalition.

“We’ve seen the APVMA having a rolling review of paraquat for nearly 30 years,” Senator Pocock said. “In the meantime, 70 countries have banned paraquat because of the health risks.

“I think there are some real questions to ask about the way that the APVMA is going about regulating chemicals in this country.”

In June, the APVMA concluded a 30-year review of the herbicide, restricting its use and application rates, but stopped short of a complete ban.

The decision was criticised by experts and advocates, who accused the regulator of ignoring evidence of the links to increased rates of Parkinson’s disease.

“I have had so many experts in this space raise concerns about the way that the APVMA looked at evidence, the weighting that they gave to different studies, and that’s really concerning,” Senator Pocock said.

“The APVMA concluded that the available evidence did not convincingly demonstrate a direct causal link.

“That seems counter to what the scientific consensus is.”

At the time of its decision, the APVMA said it received 171 submissions from scientists, doctors, the agricultural industry and other interested parties, which included concerns about human health, farming viability and environmental impact.

***

Statement from GrainGrowers Chair Rhys Turton

THE POLITICISATION of the APVMA’s paraquat determination through a Senate Inquiry undermines the regulator’s independence and ability to make decisions based on scientific evidence.

Any further analysis of the determination on paraquat must recognise the ongoing need for a robust regulatory framework which empowers independent regulators to make determinations based on the scientific evidence it has before it.

The APVMA as the independent regulator handed down a final determination on paraquat in June.

The ruling included revised assessments which will restrict some major application rates of paraquat and diquat, but, importantly, science-based evidence prevailed in important areas of the decision.

The grains industry accepted the determination of the independent regulator and has been focused on ensuring growers have the information they need to comply.

Australian growers need ongoing access to these tools of the trade to continue to produce grains and oilseeds which support Australia’s and the world’s food security.

Australia needs an “AI Kill Switch” and Data Centre moratorium

RECENTLY I introduced groundbreaking legislation to Parliament: the AI Kill Switch and Data Centre Control Bill 2026.

Why are we rushing headlong into technology that we don’t even know we can control?

My Bill delivers on two critical fronts: keeping advanced AI under strict human control and stopping the rollout of resource-hungry data centres until Parliament passes proper safeguards.

AI Kill Switch
When AI goes wrong, the threat is real. Profit is being put ahead of humanity.

Overseas, we’ve already seen advanced AI models escape testing environments and autonomously hack into other companies.

When AI goes rogue, humans must retain the authority to pull the plug.

My Bill:
☑ Mandates kill switch/shutdown capabilities for high-capacity AI developers

☑ Requires reporting of critical incidents within 24 hours

☑ Gives Government emergency powers to throttle or shut down severe threats

☑ Establishes national safety oversight to review AI systems before public release

Data Centre Moratorium
AI relies on power-hungry, water-intensive data centres.

Left unregulated, these facilities risk swallowing productive farming land and scarce water supplies in country communities like Calare, while driving up power and water bills.

My Bill establishes a nationwide moratorium on new AI data centre builds to:

☑ Protect agricultural land, water resources, and the environment

- ☑ Protect households from higher power and water bills
- ☑ Give local communities the power to approve or reject proposed constructions
- ☑ Protect public health, privacy, civil rights and humankind.

The rush toward AI must be controlled. It cannot come at the expense of our resources, communities, national security, or human safety.

Repeal these flawed gun laws now!

Recently in Parliament, I moved a motion for an immediate repeal of these flawed and unfair gun laws and pathetic buyback scheme!

I managed to unite 47 MPs to vote with me to stand up for law-abiding Australians, but the Government used its numbers to shut it down.

This buyback scheme is nothing more than legalised theft paying cents on the dollar, driving regional small businesses to the wall while doing zero to target actual criminals and terrorists.

It’s pure political scapegoating!

This buyback scheme is open for 12 months, and with the NSW State Election coming up in March, country communities can send a powerful message - before handing in their guns!

You never know, people power and the ballot box may just force change.

It’s time to bin this junk policy, defend our local businesses, and bring common sense back to Parliament!

with Mathew Dickerson, Axxis Comworld

AROUND THIS time each year, I temporarily betray my mountain bike and start running.

There are a couple of major running events our family participates in and, with my children providing the competition, pride dictates that I need to start training.

I don’t particularly love running.

Improvements are normally measured in painfully small increments after an annoyingly large amount of effort.

Until recently, when I seemingly became an elite athlete overnight.

One morning, after the first kilometre, my pace suddenly improved by about 15 seconds per kilometre. Fantastic! What had I eaten? What training had I done? Could it be my new socks?

Then my watch announced two kilometres more than 50 metres before the usual spot. Suspicious. The kilometres kept arriving early and, by the end of my normal ten-kilometre course, my watch proudly informed me I had run 10.5 kilometres.

Sadly, I hadn’t discovered hidden athletic talent. I had updated my watch software the night before and, after some research, I found the update had a known problem that was overstating distance.

My brief Olympic dream was over.

But it highlighted just how much faith we place in the little computer strapped to our wrist.

Hospitals have rooms filled with expensive machines that go “ping” to accurately measure our bodies. Yet we happily accept heart rate, blood oxygen, sleep quality, distance travelled and calories burned from something with a primary purpose of telling us the time of day.

And that last measurement - calories - deserves particular caution.

New research from Florida International University tested popular smartwatches against clinical-grade equipment designed to measure how much energy the human body is actually using.

Under controlled conditions, researchers compared smartwatch numbers to a sophisticated metabolic analyser which measured the participants’ actual energy expenditure.

The results weren’t exactly flattering for our wrist-based fitness coaches.

Typical errors were around 15 to 25 per cent, with devices consistently overestimating calories burned.

More importantly, the errors tended to increase as participants’ body-fat percentage increased.

Researchers suspect part of the problem lies in the algorithms used to turn measurements such as heart rate and movement into a calorie figure. Those algorithms are effectively educated guesses. Very clever educated guesses, certainly, but guesses nonetheless.

It matters because we tend to treat a precise number on a screen as scientific truth.

If your watch says you burned 523 calories, you take that as the gospel truth.

This isn’t the first fitness number we’ve enthusiastically embraced.

The famous target of 10,000 steps per day wasn’t handed down by medical researchers on stone tablets. Its popularity can be traced largely to marketing surrounding a Japanese pedometer in the 1960s.

None of this means smartwatches are useless. Quite the opposite.

Their real power may not be absolute accuracy but consistency. If the same watch tells me my resting heart rate is trending down, I’m running faster or I’m exercising more often, those trends can be enormously useful.

And this is where wearable technology is heading.

Future devices will combine increasingly sophisticated sensors with artificial intelligence to build a personalised picture of our normal health rather than simply comparing us with population averages.

A watch may not need to know precisely how many calories you burned. It may be far more valuable if it notices that your heart rhythm, temperature, sleep, movement or breathing has changed from your normal pattern.

That could turn the smartwatch from fitness cheerleader into an early-warning system.

As wearables become more powerful, we’ll need to understand the difference between measurement and estimation – unless my watch says I’ve beaten my kids. Then the technology is perfect!

Warriors battle through Finals weekend

WARRIORS FOOTBALL Club had a weekend full of determination, excitement and plenty of finals drama, with both the Over 30's Women and Second Grade Men taking to the field in their respective Preliminary Finals. Warriors Women fight to final whistle

On Friday night the Warriors Over 30's Women took on East Dubbo United in a tense Preliminary Final. The 70-minute match saw the Warriors produce a strong attacking performance, continually pressing forward and putting pressure on the EDU defence.

Despite numerous attacking opportunities, the Warriors were unable to find the back of the net, with East Dubbo United's strong defensive line holding firm.

With neither side able to break the deadlock after regular time, the match headed into an additional 30 minutes of extra time.

The Warriors continued to push hard, but once again neither team could find the crucial goal, sending the nail-biting contest into a penalty shootout.

Unfortunately, the Warriors were unable to secure the win, going down to EDU in the shootout and bringing their finals campaign to an end.

While the result wasn't what the team had hoped for, the Over 30's Women can be incredibly proud of the fight, determination and commitment they showed throughout the season.

Second Grade Men storm into Grand Final

On Sunday it was the Warriors Second Grade Men who stepped onto the field for their Preliminary Final against Dubbo Bulls FC, with a spot in the Grand Final on the line.

The opening stages of the match were closely contested, with both teams matching each other across the park.

After an early injury forced Nick Streicher to spend some time on the sidelines, he returned to the field and made an immediate impact, helping Cohan Hyde find the back of the net several times in a matter of minutes with some outstanding attacking play.

The Warriors continued to build momentum as the match progressed, producing an impressive attacking display to eventually defeat the Bulls 6-3.

The victory secures the Warriors a place in the Grand Wellington's mighty Over 30s Second Grade Men ready for their grand final combat against Macquarie United.

Final, where they will face top-of-the-ladder Macquarie United.

The big game takes place this Sunday, September 20, from 1:40pm at Apex Oval, Dubbo.

After battling their way through the finals, our Second Grade Men are just one game away from taking home the premiership.

Now it's time for the Warriors faithful to rally behind the boys!

Get to Apex Oval, get loud and show the team what Wellington support is all about.

From Mini Beasts to Parliament: St Mary's Students Explore Big and Small!

Students at St Mary's Catholic School in Wellington recently expanded their learning beyond the classroom with two exciting educational trips. Kindergarten, Year 1 and Year 2 classes headed off on a "mini beast safari" at the Wambangalang Environmental Education Centre, where the young scientists searched for invertebrates, examined their unique traits and learned how vital these small creatures are to local ecosystems.

Meanwhile, Year 5 and 6 students journeyed to Canberra for an action-packed three-day itinerary full of history, science, and civic learning. Highlights included guided tours of Parliament House and the Museum of Australian Democracy, attending the moving Last Post Ceremony at the Australian War Memorial, exploring hands-on science at the Botanic Gardens and National Dinosaur Museum and taking in the views from Mount Ainslie. Both excursions provided unforgettable, real-world experiences for students across all grades, and a huge thank you goes to the dedicated staff and organisers who made these trips possible.
